New Flood Crest Rolls Seaward; Canada Suffers

Additional Dikes and Levees Crumble in Pacific Northwest; High Water Causes Evacuation of 360 Residents From Two Islands

Portland, Ore., June 4 (AP)—Unbridled water churned today through newly punched-out dikes on the Pacific northwest's far-flung flood front. More strained levees were crumbling. A new crest was rolling down.

The Fraser River in Canada smashed the barriers—at Barnston and Hatzic Islands in British Columbia. The Canadian navy said all of 360 men, women and children, on Barnston who fled for their lives ahead of the foaming water wall had reached safety. Most of theme were taken off in ships to nearby Port Kells, the navy said.

Reinforcements rushed to soggy dikes along the lower Columbia River's shores in Oregon and Washington as the massive flow of the big river threatened to widen its most destructive 1,200-mile surge to the Pacific.

The fresh flood crest was mounting in the Columbia, far up in the mountains where the blazing sun too quickly changed the deep snowpack into runoff water. The Snake River, main Columbia tributary, also was rising.

Before the new rampages of the Fraser, damage estimates from qualified sources soared to $110,000,000 for the Columbia in Idaho and the lower valley in Oregon and Washington, $30,000,000 for the Fraser. The death toll on the Columbia was 21, two on the Fraser.

A wall of water 20 feet high roared into Barnston. The saucer-like island, almost three miles long and one and one-half wide, is 20 miles east of Vancouver, B. C.

The Canadian navy at once sent six vessels in an attempt to save the marooned islanders who fled to the opposite side from the break. Most residents had been evacuated earlier when the situation had been considered more critical. The break came, a Canadian army official said, as "quite a surprise."

St. Ursula Holds Yearly Graduation; 12 Get Diplomas

Graduates Are Told U. S. Is Being Engulfed by Loss in Matters Spiritual

The very Rev. Edward A. Wuenschel, C.S.S.R., admonished the graduates at the Academy of St. Ursula to spread the Christian way of life through their own personal living as Catholic women. He gave the commencement address at the annual graduation exercises Thursday afternoon at Marygrove, the academy grounds. A number of awards also were made.

The 12 members of the class who received diplomas conferred by the Rt. Rev. Msgr. Martin J. Drury, P.D.V.F., were the Misses June Conaglin, Maureen Davis, Elizabeth Dolan, Elizabeth Ann Flynn, Marjorie Ross, with honor; Joan Burns, Patricia Cowdrey, Anne Dwyer, Joan Stauble, Mildred Walden, Anne Marie Zaccheo, with credit; and Patricia Zaccheo. The honor students achieved an average of 90 per cent during the four high school years; and credit students an average of 85 per cent.

"America is gradually being engulfed by a spiritual darkness that may be as disastrous and even more disastrous than a sudden attack upon our cities with atomic bombs," the Rev. Father Wuenschel told the graduating class. In explanation he spoke of "a generation that is largely spiritual illiterates; the highest divorce rate in the world, the most appalling crime rate; and the proposition of juvenile delinquency.

Teachers College To Hold Its 61st Graduation Rites

The New Paltz State Teachers College will hold its 61st annual commencement exercises on Monday, June 14. Dr. William F. Russell, dean of Teachers College, Columbia University, will give the commencement address on the subject, "The Basic Job of Education." The Rev. George B. Fagan of New Paltz will assist in the ceremonies.

The commencement day exercises will be preceded by the traditional baccalaureate services on Sunday, June 13. The speaker at those services will be the well-known public relations counsel, Edward L. Bernays, who will speak on "Better Human Relations." "The Highest Education." The invocation and benediction will be given by the Rev. Lee H. Ball of New Paltz.

Both events will be held in the college auditorium, the baccalaureate services at 11 a. m. on Sunday, June 13, and the commencement exercises at 10:30 a. m., on Monday, June 14. Residents of the community are invited to attend the baccalaureate services. Admission to the commencement exercises is by ticket. A limited number of tickets will be available to community residents. These tickets may be secured from Miss Anna Reed, registrar, New Paltz State Teachers College.

The commencement speaker, Dr. William F. Russell, Dean of Teachers' College, Columbia University, has had a long and distinguished career as one of America's foremost educators. He is distinguished also for educational services rendered to European governments and institutions of higher learning. He has been chairman of the American Council on Education, member of the National Advisory Commission on Education, director of the Na-

Shipler Says Facts Known Since 1804

Marshall's Sudden Finding Brings 'Plaudits' for U. S. Official

New York, June 4 (AP)—The editor of the Churchman Magazine says Secretary of State Marshall has suddenly discovered facts about the magazine published in its masthead since 1804.

Dr. Guy Emery Shipler made the comment last night at the magazine's dinner where Marshall was to have received the publication's annual award for promotion of good will among people. Marshall had declined the award,, asserting the Churchman was not an official organ of the Protestant Episcopal Church and indulged in politics and international affairs editorially.

Dr. Shipler, one of a group of Protestant clergymen who said religious freedom existed in Yugoslavia after a visit to that country and a conference with Marshal Tito, said in his dinner speech:

"Recently a government official,

Will Study Maritime Dispute

Truman Uses the T.-H. Emergency Setup as Method to Avert Vast Strike

Names Five Men

80-Day Court Order May Keep Vessels Sailing

Washington, June 4 (AP)—The "national emergency" provision of the Taft-Hartley Law got a new workout today as President Truman invoked it in the maritime dispute.

This makes five times Mr. Truman has used this special machinery in an effort to end management-labor deadlocks. He invoked it previously in these industries: Atomic energy, coal, meat, and telephones.

The President took the first step of the emergency procedure in the maritime case yesterday when he appointed a five man board of inquiry headed by Harry Shulman, of the Yale Law School.

Other members are Andrew Jackson, New York attorney, Arthur P. Allen, University of California Institute of Industrial Relations, Jesse Freidin, New York attorney, and George Cheney, San Diego labor relations consultant.

The board will report on the issues in the dispute, which involves six unions of seamen and longshoremen whose contracts expire June 15. After the board's report is made the government can seek an 80-day court order to delay any strikes or lockouts.

June 15 Crucial Date

The unions are threatening to strike June 15 unless they get a higher wage contract, plus the right to use hiring halls to supply sailors and stevedores to shipowners. The hiring hall issue is the main obstacle to an agreement. The shipowners contend it is a form of closed shop outlawed by the Taft-Hartley Act.

Despite the presidential action, union radio operators on East and Gulf coast ships have voted to strike on or after June 15, the C.I.O. American Radio Association announced last night in New York.

In San Francisco, another union involved in the dispute said it also was going ahead with plans to walk out when the contract expires. It was the C.I.O. International Longshoremen's and Warehousemen's Union.

General Meeting

Harry Bridges, I.L.W.U. president, was scheduled to attend a general union meeting in New York today to draft mutual assistance plans.

Meantime a showdown approached in the Pioneer National Emergency case, involving the atomic laboratory at Oak Ridge, Tenn.

An 80-day injunction issued March 19 will be dissolved next Monday or shortly afterward. The workers are legally free to strike after that.

The Federal Mediation Service, making a last ditch effort to break the deadlock, has arranged a bargaining session Monday morning at Oak Ridge between the opposing parties, Carbide and Carbon Chemicals Corp. and the A.F.L. Atomic Trades and Labor Council.

If the dispute still is not settled when the injunction is dissolved the President is required to send a report to Congress for action by the lawmakers.

Voorhees Nominated

Washington, June 4 (AP)—President Truman today nominated Tracy S. Voorhees, New York attorney, as assistant secretary of the army. Voorhees, 56, was an army officer in the last World War.

Lewis Is Ordered to Bargain by Judge Or Face Possible Fine, Contempt Charge; Says Lewis Would Kill Southern Group

Union Chief Thus Told to Talk Terms With Moody, Head of Association

Sees Peril for All

His Refusal to Bargain Seen as Threat to U.S. Social Fabric

Washington, June 4 (AP)—John L. Lewis was ordered today to bargain with the Southern Coal Producers' Association or possibly face another fine for contempt of court.

Federal Judge T. Alan Goldsborough, who twice has fined Lewis and his United Mine Workers for contempt, issued the order.

Robert N. Denham, general counsel for the National Labor Relations Board, had asked that Lewis be directed to enter contract talks with the association, headed by Joseph E. Moody.

The judge said that it was apparent from the record that Lewis did not want to bargain with the Southern Association because he wanted to "destroy" it.

He suggested that the United Mine Workers chief might desire to bring about the destruction of the Southern Association "because it is harder to deal with" a single unit than with representatives of the 14 smaller associations through the South which make up the association.

"Certainly it's unreasonable in this present case for the union to say 'we're entitled to one representative for 99 units and the Southern Producers' Association is not entitled to one representative for 14 associations,'" he continued.

"That is not only not logical, but it is not reasonable, the judge said.

New contract talks between coal operators and Lewis broke down May 18 when Lewis refused to consent to Moody sitting at the conference table as the association's representative.

Goldsborough said:

"This is a situation which of course affects our entire social fabric.

".. .. .. but when the time comes that any movement-whether labor or not undertakes to carry out its wishes by methods which ultimately disintegrate society—at that point it must stop."

The soft coal contract expires June 30, allowing less than a month for the operators and Lewis to make a new agreement.

More than one third of the nation's soft coal is produced by the groups making up the Southern Association.

Lewis has said he would be willing to talk to Moody if he was in the meetings as spokesman for the southern operators—instead of the association.

The coal operators were standing by, ready to resume contract talks.

Lewis now has his choice of including the Southern Association in the bargaining talks or facing another fine for contempt of court.

Goldsborough is the judge who twice already has fined Lewis and the U.M.W. a total of $2,130,000 for contempt of court. Previous contempt charges arose when Lewis and his union ignored court orders requiring them to end coal strikes.

Winding up a lengthy statement giving his decision today, Goldsborough said:

"I will sign the order requested by the National Labor Relations Board."

The judge will sign the order formally later today.

This action makes two Goldsborough injunctions hanging over Lewis. The other is an order prohibiting the union from striking in a dispute over miners' pensions. This dispute has been settled, at least to the satisfaction of the Justice Department, but Goldsborough has refused so far to lift the order.

Queen to Quit Sept. 4

The Hague, June 4 (AP)—Queen Wilhelmina of The Netherlands will abdictate on September 4, it was announced officially today. Her daughter, Crown Princess Juliana, will assume the throne that day and be sworn in as queen two days later, the announcement said. September 6 will be the 50th anniversary of Queen Wilhelmina's ascension to the throne.

14 Are Wounded

Rome, June 4 (AP)—Fourteen persons, five of them police, have been wounded by gunfire in spreading farm strikes in northern Italy, the Italian news agency Ansa said today. The bloodshed was the most serious since the April 18-19 election.

Railroad Motion To Appeal From Verdict Is Denied

$10,000 Was Awarded by Supreme Court for Death of E. Hoppe

The Court of Appeals has denied the motion of the New York Central Railroad for leave to appeal to the Court of Appeals from a verdict of $10,000 awarded in Supreme Court in October 1946 in an action brought by Erna Hoppe Fischer, as administratrix, etc., of Ernest Hoppe against the New York Central Railroad Company, Walter G. Williams and Fannie Williams, individually and doing business as Williams Lake, and the Ulster County Construction Co., Inc.

At the time of the trial the jury found no cause of action against the Ulster County Construction Co., Inc., and later Justice Francis Bergan, before whom the action was tried, set aside the verdict of the jury against Walter G., and Fannie Williams. An appeal was taken by the railroad to the Appellate Division and the judgment of the lower court was unanimously affirmed. Then a motion was made to the Appellate Division to re-argue the case or to appeal to the Court of Appeals and that application was denied. An application was then made to the Court of Appeals for leave to appeal to that court and that application has now been denied with $10 costs and necessary printing disbursements.

The action arose over the death of Ernest Hoppe, who was the owner of the car in which he was riding on March 21, 1943. The car was being driven by Fritz Kuebler when it was struck by a Wallkill Valley train at the Williams Lake crossing in the town of Rosendale near Binnewater station. Hoppe was killed.

Conklin Woman's Death Officially Is Called Suicide

District Attorney Louis G. Bruhn announced today that his office has completed the investigation of the death of Mrs. Julie Conklin and issued his verdict that death was suicide.

Death, which occurred Wednesday shortly before 4:30 p. m., was caused by a .22 calibre bullet which penetrated the woman's heart and aorta and caused massive hemorrhage of the chest, according to Dr. J. Spottiswood Taylor, who was called to investigate in the absence of Coroner Ernest A. Kelly.

Dr. Taylor added that "it seems clear, after all investigations, that death was suicide with a .22 calibre pistol."

Chief of Police Raymond Van Buren this morning also said that investigation by Detectives Wesley Cramer and Clarence Brophy disclosed the death was suicide.

Mrs. Conklin was discovered dead by her husband, whom police identified as the Rev. Earl A. Conklin of 44 Tompkins street, at 4:29 p. m. Wednesday. Her body was in her bed in a second floor room at the Tompkins street address.

A Plane Passed Through

Half of this Brookville, N. Y., cottage was sheared off and furnishings scattered when a Navy fighter plane crashed on the Vandevanter Crisp estate. Grumman aircraft pilot Thomas Le Boutillier, III, who was at the controls, suffered a broken arm and other injuries. The plane had evidently run out of gas and crashed when the pilot overshot a small private airport during an attempted emergency landing. The two occupants of the cottage escaped without injury. Children Escape Injury When Car Demolishes Cycle

Chichester Man, 30, Held on Charge of Driving Under Influence of Liquor

Flora Ostrandeer, 15, and Clifford North, 10, of Chichester miraculously escaped serious injury last evening about 7 o'clock when a bicycle which they were pushing up "Sunshine Hill" in Chichester was struck by a car and demolished against a stone wall.

The driver of the car, Walter Baughman, 30, of Chichester, was arrested by State Trooper Ray Dunn of Phoenicia on a charge of operating a car while under the influence of liquor. Taken before Justice of the Peace Walter C. Weyman at Phoenicia, Baughman was committed to jail in lieu of $500 bail. He will have a hearing later.

Trooper Dunn stated that at the time of the accident the two Chichester youngsters were pushing the cycle up the hill, North being ahead near the front of the cycle and the Ostrander girl was near the rear of the bicycle. The 1931 Olds sedan of Baughman approached from the rear and when abreast the cycle it allegedly shot over to the left striking the bicycle head on and throwing the two children to the road. The cycle was crushed against the stone wall.

Dr. Charles Quinn of Phoenicia was summoned and treated Flora Ostrander for lacerations about the head and contusions of the back. North was treated for abrasions of the left leg. Baughman suffered a contusion of the nose and eye.

Marshall's View

Washington, June 4 (AP)—Secretary of State Marshall said today that the proposed $533,000,000 House slash in foreign aid funds would turn the European Recovery Program into a "mere relief" project. Marshall authorized this direct quotation at a news conference: "The reduction proposed would, I consider, alter the European program from one of reconstruction to one of mere relief."

Fromm Says He's Stuck

Chicago, June 4 (AP)—Karl C. Fromm, a molasses salesman, says he apparently is stuck with a bird which flew into his automobile last Monday and continues to make the car his home. When Fromm discovered the bird in his car he gave it food and water. Since then it has been his traveling companion and although Fromm keeps the car windows open the bird refuses to leave the car.

Jews, Arabs Fight Battle Inside Jenin; Nablus in Peril

Arab Headquarters Acknowledges Jewish Thrust, but Says Iraqi Troops Counterattacked; Planes Bomb Nablus, Hit Fort

Cairo, June 4 (AP)—Israelis and Iraqi troops have fought a sharp battle inside Jenin, northern apex of an Arab triangle threatening Tel Aviv. On the Palestine coastal route to Tel Aviv from the south, Jews and Egyptians clashed in fierce combat, reports from both sides said today.

An Arab general headquarters source in Amman, Trans-Jordan, acknowledged that a Jewish armored column speared into Jenin. The informant declared Iraqi troops counterattacked and drove the Jews out.

The Jews said the Jenin drive placed the Israelis in a position to threaten Nablus, the southern point of the triangle menacing Tel Aviv from the east. The western point of the triangle is at Tulkarm, just outside Israel's frontier, 22 miles northeast of Tel Aviv. Jewish planes bombed Nablus and hit a police fortress, the Israelis said.

The Amman informant said Jewish troops struck a small Arab strongpoint southeast of Haifa yesterday causing considerable damage with armored car guns before withdrawing.

While negotiations for a truce continued, Jerusalem had 24 hours of relative peace. Haganah through yesterday was holding all but a small part of the modern city, but the Jews stood fast without advancing and Arab forces made no attempt to improve their positions. Even the snipers took the night off, a dispatch from the city said.

A Jewish communique said Israeli planes also bombed Arab concentrations at Tulkarm and hit at Arab military camps in the so-called triangle of strength east of Tel Aviv. The Jews also claimed

Truman Goes West; Speaks at Chicago

President Pauses Briefly at Pittsburgh; Arvey Meeting Planned

Aboard Truman Train Enroute to Chicago, June 4 (AP)—An outwardly confident President Truman rode westward today for a major test of his popularity on an 18-state "grass roots" speaking tour.

He told correspondents as he boarded the 16-car special train at Washington last night that "if I felt better, I couldn't stand it."

Mr. Truman had no parting message for newsmen.

"You will get plenty of messages as we go along," he said.

The train first paused briefly at Pittsburgh for an operational stop. Mr. Truman came to the rear observation platform to greet Mayor

Corsi Directed by Dewey to Check Cases of 3 Discharged for Alleged Anti-Red Activities

Albany, N. Y., June 4 (AP)—Governor Dewey's labor chief was under orders today to determine whether three New York city men had been expelled from C.I.O. membership because of "anti-Communist activities."

But Samuel Wolchok, international president of the Retail, Wholesale and Department Store Union, termed Dewey's action "unnecessary." The union's constitution "will protect the rights of individual members," Wolchok said.

Leaders of Local 3 said Wednesday that Gustave A. Holmstrom, Samuel Wolfson and Anthony Bucceri were being expelled for trying to "divide and disrupt" the union. They were accused of distributing leaflets saying the local was affiliated with so-called "Communist front organizations" and was in favor of Henry Wallace.

Dewey wrote Industrial Commissioner Edward Corsi yesterday that he had been "advised" the three had been ousted "as a result of anti-Communist activities" and would lose their jobs at Bloomingdale's department store.

"If it is true," Dewey declared, "* * * it is a condition that cannot be tolerated. * * * it is unthinkable that any man should suffer economic or other loss because he is a good American."

He directed Corsi to determine the facts and recommend what should be done, if anything.

The union's international president said in New York city that expulsion of the men had been stayed. They will continue to work at the store pending a hearing at an international executive board meeting June 16, he said.

Holstrom asserted he would rather "see labor pull itself up by its own bootstraps" than have a government agency step into the case.

"I think we can win within the union itself," he added.

Dewey, campaigning for the Republican presidential nomination, has declared himself against outlawing Communism. He maintains it should be kept in the open.

Another union official accused Dewey of attempting to make political capital of a "normal procedure."

The official, Samuel A. Neuburger, counsel for the local, said in a statement:

"The unseemly haste with which the governor has injected himself can only be interpreted as a desperate attempt in an election year to advance his political aspirations.

"The union has no comment to make on the procedure. In normal course, the democratic processes of the union will bring these proceedings to their normal conclusion."

Bloomingdale's management took no direct cognizance of the governor's action, but issued this statement:

"The international union, which is a party to our contract, has informed us that the expulsion of these three members by the local is not conclusive. We are confident that the officers of the international union will insure that the rights of every individual union member will be safeguarded in accordance with the American tradition."

Dewey Campaign Manager Predicts an Early Choice

Washington, June 4 (AP)—Who will top the first ballot at the Republican National Convention?

That question was hotly debated today by backers of three leading G.O.P. presidential candidates.

Supporters of Senator Robert A. Taft claimed a 25-vote margin over Gov. Thomas E. Dewey on the first crucial test.

Without breaking down their claims fully by states, the Taft camp contended it can count on 306 votes in the initial convention ballot.

The Ohioans' friends listed Dewey's opening total at 281, credited Harold E. Stassen with 149 and said 358 votes will go to favorite sons and others. A total of 548 is needed to nominate.

Disputing this, Herbert E. Brownell, Dewey's campaign manager, predicted the nomination of the New York governor without any long deadlock at the convention, opening in Philadelphia, June 21.

Brownell told a news conference yesterday he is certain Dewey will have more votes on the first ballot than any other candidate. He declined, however, to estimate the total.

Stassen has predicted he will have 340 votes on the convention's first ballot. He told a news conference in Des Moines yesterday the presidential race is "very definitely wide open."

"No one has sufficient strength to win on the first ballot," Stassen said.

The question has taken on added importance lately because all three leading candidates apparently think the best way to beat a threatened convention lieup is to break the tape in the first heat.

Brownell said he thinks Dewey's victory over Stassen in the Oregon primary has made it possible for the New York governor to grab the nomination early in the Philadelphia balloting.

"I am not predicting a first ballot victory for the governor," Brownell said, "but I certainly am not ruling it out."

Politicians generally agree it

BABSON on BUSINESS

LAND VALUES

Babson Park, Mass., June 4—The Agriculture Department in Washington is putting out warnings as to the high prices of farm land. Their agents are advising against the purchase of more property at present prices. Readers are also disturbed by the chart which appeared on page 79 of Time Magazine for May 3 of this year.

What Are the Facts

The facts are that these big increases in land values are not the same in different sections of the country. Probably the farm values fairly near large cities are abnormally high. They are selling not on their value as producing farms, but rather on their speculative value for sub-divisions, etc. This also applies to pasture land near small cities. There seems to be an abnormal demand for "bottom land" which in many cases is selling far above a sensible price.

The special concern of the Agricultural Department, however, is in connection with land being bought on mortgage. They are very much opposed, at the present time, for farmers to buy land for which they cannot pay cash, believing that sooner or later a crash is coming, due to an inevitable decline in farm prices. Of course, the ultimate value of a farm is whether or not it can raise crops which will pay a fair rate of interest on the land after all expenses, and this of course depends upon the price received, as well as the wages and other expenses which must be paid.

City and Town Property

The Federal Reserve Bank in Washington is especially disturbed at the continuous climb in mortgage loans on city and town property. This is probably due in part to the activity of the Federal Loan and Savings Banks in soliciting mortgages. Certainly this should be curbed at the present time. It is wrong for mortgage loans on real estate to be climbing during a period in which business loans are dropping off steadily and are being reduced.

These Federal Loan and Savings Banks must be careful not to be part of a vicious circle whereby some day the property, upon which they are now loaning and which loans are in part guaranteed by the Government, will come back into the Government's hands. If the Government then adopts a policy of selling these houses at auction, the houses for which the veteran now pays $10,000 will be selling in the open market for $5,000 or even less. It is entirely possible that what happened to city and small town real estate in the 30's, could easily repeat in the 50's.

Reasons for Being Cautious

There are four definite reasons which people should carefully consider before further bidding up prices for any kind of real estate. These reasons are as follows:

The upward trend in mortgage indebtedness, which in some localities is reaching a dangerous point.

Threats of surplus farm products and even certain manufactured goods due to the present higher level of production.

The recent downward trend in the buying power both of farmers due to lower prices of farm products and of the industrial population due to the increased cost of living.

The fact that a large proportion of the money now being sent to Europe will be used to aid Europe to produce more farm products and manufactured goods in order to be independent of us.

How to Invest

Use your earnings first to pay up your mortgages and other debts. Then put your buildings and machinery into good shape so you can go through the next depression without any maintenance costs. After this, give your wife a break by buying her a modern kitchen and bathroom. She was patient and thrifty for you during the hard times; she now is getting older and cannot do so much. Be liberal with your church and give your children a useful education in agriculture, mechanics or business. Above all, have a good savings bank account or a safe deposit box of U.S. Government "E" bonds. Don't keep these in your house.

STONE RIDGE

Stone Ridge, June 3—Memorial Day services were held at the Marbletown Honor Roll Monday morning sponsored by the Town of Marbletown American Legion and American Legion Auxiliary, Post 1512. Those taking part were Mrs. Edward Muller, leading in the singing of the National Anthem; Invocation, the Rev. Gerrit Timmer, Reformed Church; memorial tribute to deceased veterans, Mrs. Robert Sutton and Mrs. Frank Williams; memorial address, the Rev. Robert Ward, Episcopal Church. A firing squad saluted the veterans and playing of Taps followed. George Williams and Isaac Graham placed the wreath on the honor roll and the Rev. B. C. Schmidt, Methodist Church, gave the benediction.

The Stone Ridge Grange will hold its second annual flower show in August.

The regular meeting of the Grange will be held Monday, June 7 at which time the gingerbread contest will take place.

New officers of St. Peter's Episcopal Church, Women's Auxiliary, were elected at the recent meeting and were installed by the Rev. Robert C. Ward, rector. They include Mrs. Lester Roosa, president; Mrs. Clarence Pine, first vice-president; Mrs. Ross K. Osterhoudt, second vice-president; Mrs. William Strong, secretary; Mrs. J. Barmann, treasurer; Mrs. C. C. Hardenbergh, Christian social service; Mrs. Robert C. Ward, Christian education.

The second performance of the two one-act plays was given at the Grange Hall last Saturday night. The plays were sponsored by the Grange and Girl Scouts. Members of the Juvenile Grange served refreshments.

Miss Ann Traphagen of Roselle, N. J., and John Batschelder spent the holiday week-end visiting relatives in Stone Ridge and Phoenicia.

No Nuts and Bolts

Ostriches are herbivorous, and on farms are pastured on alfalfa in summer and are fed alfalfa hay, wheat, bran, barley, oats, and other grains in winter.

Short-Lived

The average life of a single human hair is two years. It falls at the end of that time and a new one grows in. If the new one fails to grow, baldness results.

Songs of our Times

There is an album for the popular songs of every year between 1923 and 1936 inclusive!

The past seems beautiful from the viewpoint of a stormy present—particularly the songs of a bygone day. For there is healing, as well as comfort, in the memory of a half-forgotten tune.

SONGS OF OUR TIMES recapture our moods of yesteryear, help us to remember the year we fell in love, the tune to which we first danced together, the year we were married, the year we went to war—all the milestones in our lives.

For certain years hold particular significance for each of us. These years have something which lingers in the mind and quickens the heart. Such a time, with its blend of reminiscence and popular tunes, is a vital part of our experience.

So choose the album of YOUR YEAR, sit back, relax, listen—and let the world pass by in review "before your ears."

Remember the Song Hits of:

1923—Who's Sorry Now, and others—Charles Baum.
1924—The Man I Love, and others—Bob Grant.
1925—Remember, and others—Basil Fomeen and Orchestra.
1926—Charmaine and others, Two piano medleys, Marlene Fingerle and Arthur Schutt.
1927—My Blue Heaven—Bob Grant.
1928—Sweet Sue—Basil Fomeen and Orchestra.
1929—Sunny Side Up—Marlene Fingerle and Arthur Schutt.
1930—What Is This Thing Called Love—Ted Straeter.
1931—Sweet and Lovely—Ray Benson.
1932—Star Dust—Carmen Cavallaro.
1933—Smoke Gets in Your Eyes—Charles Baum.
1934—Champagne Waltz—Bob Grant and Orchestra.
1935—I'm in the Mood for Love—Nat Brandwynne.
1936—The Way You Look Tonight—Marlene Fingerle and Arthur Schutt.

'POTENTIAL LIFE HAZARD'

Overcrowding of local private nursing homes, which has been declared a "potential life hazard" has been brought to the attention of the Common Council in a resolution from the Board of Fire Commissioners, who point out that the city lacks a proper ordinance for controlling these conditions.

The commissioners recommend that certain standards be set up, or that the city home be remodeled to take care of the overflow of patients from these homes.

This matter, which has been referred to the Building Code Committee, should be acted upon without delay.

It is the duty of municipal authorities to constantly inspect dwellings and enforce adequate safety codes. This will cause hardships—but no hardship is as serious as death by fire.

The hazard of fire can be serious even in well-built and well-maintained homes. It is critical in overcrowded dwellings and in old run-down places.

The housing shortage has forced many people to move into temporary dwellings, where wiring, heating units and cooking equipment are frequently makeshift and unsafe. And that, in turn, has created a new and grave menace to life from fire.

It will be some years before the housing shortage is eliminated. In the meantime, the problem of reducing the hazard in substandard structures is two-fold. The first phase must be a constant vigilance on the part of the families living in them. Everything must be done to make electric and heating equipment as safe as possible and it should be done by a qualified mechanic, not an amateur handyman.

EMPLOYMENT POOL

In Minneapolis, Minn., an unusual pool of part-time workers has been formed. It has proved successful in bringing together, to mutual advantage, persons who can work only at limited times and employers who need special help at odd times or in emergency situations.

The Minneapolis service declares that it is not an employment agency, and it does not operate on the agency principle. Workers involved are employes of the service, and remain so. Their labor is sold to employers, who are billed for time.

The service can provide an employer with special help at a time planned far in advance, or on an hour's notice. Its files list the skills of its workers, the days and hours when they are available, and so at any hour of any day it can find a worker available to do a specified kind of job.

The Minneapolis service deals in employment for women exclusively, but the idea would be applicable to men workers also. It seems to be a helpful addition to the supply of workers, and also provides an outlet for the skills of persons in such circumstances that they cannot fit themselves into the normal working week.

A PRACTICAL DECISION

General MacArthur acted with practical wisdom and high political morality in turning down the Senate Appropriations Committee request to return before the Republican convention and testify on aid to China.

The Wisconsin and Nebraska primaries apparently taught the general all he wanted to know about his chances for the presidency. By refusing this obviously political invitation he saved himself and his backers some embarrassing exploitation. He also not only saved but surely enhanced the high esteem in which the American people hold him.

BOLTING BUSINESS

The much-heralded anti-Truman bolt on the part of the South is being narrowed down more and more. Tennessee and Texas have declined to be associated with it. Now North Carolina is sending to the convention a delegation which, while uninstructed, is reported to be largely for the President. Governor R. Gregg Cherry is rated as a Truman supporter.

One opposing voice testifies to the failure of the idea of the bolt. Ex-Senator Cameron Morrison declares, "I'll never vote for Truman's nomination, but if he is nominated, I'll vote for his election. We want none of this bolting business in North Carolina."

Chilly words these for the organizers of a new Southern party.

The banner understatement of many years is that of Goebbels, Nazi propaganda chief, in his recently published diaries, "With Fascism we got ourselves into somewhat mixed company".

The next president will have plenty of grief, but that does not seem to deter anyone from seeking the job.

'These Days'

REPLACED PERSONS

Now that Israel has been organized as a State, already recognized by the United States, and soon by the principal countries and by the United Nations, the problem of finding permanent homes for the remaining 900,000 displaced persons ought to solve itself. Certainly the Jewish refugees—at any rate, most of them—ought to be willing to go to Israel, the younger ones to fight for it; the too old and too young to add to its population. Although most refugees are not Jews, the existence of Israel ought to solve that phase of the problem and will end the myth that all refugees are Jews.

The British, who are obviously overpopulated, report that they have already admitted 325,000 displaced persons into their country and that they are continuing to admit them apparently at the rate of 40,000 a year. Belgium has taken 17,000 since July 1, 1947. If other countries did as well, the problem could be solved more speedily.

Displaced persons originate in Central Europe, Poland, the Baltic countries, Yugoslavia and the Ukraine. Most of them cannot return to their native lands because of their record of opposition to Communism. Refugees from Communism are in as great a peril as those who fled Nazism.

It is a bit difficult to understand why an overpopulated country like Great Britain is able and willing to do so much, while an underpopulated country, as, for instance, Canada, does so little. Of course, there are always local questions and prejudices that intervene, but viewed humanely, the British are doing more than might have been expected of them.

They seem to have set up a process for swift assimilation, which is, of course, always the question when migration is of the horde rather than of the individual character. That is, when peoples migrate in a horde they retain the language, customs and habits of their nativity and their ancestry. They become a separate group in the new country—a "minority" as we have come erroneously to call them in this country. They tend to live together apart from their hosts. They cultivate a nostalgic loyalty to conditions from which they had actually fled, and rear their children in a divided loyalty, which usually confuses their lives. In time, they even become a menace to the nation that welcomed them, because they bring into its life extraneous social factors that inevitably increase irritation and disturbance.

The British have, apparently, met this problem head on, by mixing the migrants without regard to origin, by employing them not in groups but as individuals. This employment is so organized that the English language becomes the common tongue among them as it is the language of their environment. In fact, it is so arranged that they speak only in English and even before employment they are taught the speech of their new country.

Such a process is invaluable. I recall my own childhood which was spent largely among non-English speaking adults. Many of them never learned to speak, read or write English. Many of them remained not only steeped in the habits and traditions of their past, but were oblivious of the habits and traditions of their new world. Yet, in time, they became citizens and voted and played a role in politics. Yet, some of them always remained alien to American life.

The fault lay with America, which, having opened its gates wide to migrants from some 50 nations, created no mechanism for acquainting them with the new country. True, the children of these immigrants were sent to our public schools and they soon enough were brought under the influence of the American way of life. But it has been an unnecessarily long process and, in social values, very costly.

The 900,000 displaced persons now awaiting homes outside the continent of Europe ought to be moved more quickly than has been possible in the past. The day ought to come when that ugly phrase, "Displaced Person," is wiped out of our minds. For how can, in justice, any human being be displaced or displaceable? The very existence of the term and fact is evidence that liberty does not exist for all in this world.

That Body of Yours

ASPIRATION BIOPSY

Before the discovery of the X-ray it usually was necessary to do an "exploratory" operation to see the organs in the abdomen. By means of the X-ray, many of these exploratory operations are unnecessary as cancer and ulcer of the stomach and intestines, gall stones and kidney stones and other diseased conditions are discovered.

However, there still are diseased conditions of organs and tissues where an exploratory operation is not considered advisable and the X-ray does not reveal the condition present. It is in these cases that a new method of examination is now being used called "biopsy." Biopsy is removing a piece of tissue from an organ and examining it, usually under a microscope.

Until recently biopsy was removing tissue with a knife or with a needle which withdrew the tissue in more or lesss natural condition. A method of removing tissue in its natural state now is being used and is reported in "Hospital Weekly" of Paris, France, by Drs. Giraud and P. Cazal, who performed 200 "aspiration" biopsies from 1944 to 1946 inclusive.

A cylinder of tissue is punched out from an organ. In this fragment of tissue the cells keep in their proper position and are not squeezed out of shape or broken down. The fragment can be cut across in the usual way with a sharp instrument in the same manner as a piece of tissue obtained from a body.

The advantage of aspiration biopsy is that the cells of the organ remain firm, particularly the liver. Diagnosis in the case of an enlarged liver is particularly aided by aspiration biopsy, which makes it possible to study various diseases of the liver — inflammation, cancer, cirrhosis (hardening) and others. Aspiration biopsy not only reveals the kind of disease present in the liver but also its extent and danger.

Although aspiration biopsy is particularly valuable in revealing diseases of the liver without endangering life, it also is used safely in the examination of enlarged kidney, thyroid gland, and surface and deep tumors and bones.

Think You Can Make It, Chum?

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

By Drew Pearson

Washington — Chicago Democrats have hailed President Truman out of a near blunder on his visit to Chicago tomorrow.

The White House staff had planned to bring the President into Chicago at 3:30 p. m.—a time when the streets are not crowded.

However, ex-mayor Ed Kelly, a past master at parades, reminded the White House that 4:30 was the time to arrive in Chicago. At that hour, people are on their way home and the President will appear to have a crowd watching his arrival—even if it's only a lot of folks on their way to catch trains and buses.

Housing Still Bottled Up

Ninety more Congressmen are needed to sign the petition to get the Taft-Ellender-Wagner housing bill out of the Banking and Currency Committee where it is now bottled up.

A few Southern Democrats have already signed in favor of housing—but only a few. However, Southern leaders indicate that pressure from the voters at home is strong and that Southern Congressmen will begin signing up en masse soon. They are beginning to realize that adequate housing is one of the best ways to lick Communism.

If the South signs, it will take about 25 to 30 Eastern and Western Congressmen to force the important housing bill onto the floor for a vote before Congress recesses. Able California Congresswoman Helen Gahagan Douglas is spearheading the housing drive. If the drive fails within the next week there will be no chance of any housing bill passing Congress until next year.

American Citizens Desert

A total of four American citizens in Moscow have now either deserted to the Russians or denounced American policy toward Russia. On top of this the son of Meyer Davis, wealthy bandleader, has renounced his American citizenship in Paris in protest against U. S. policy.

The above were young Americans.

All of which would indicate that in the eyes of part of our younger generation there is either something wrong with our current Russian policy or else that that policy has not been properly sold either at home or abroad.

All the facts in the case of Sergeant James McMillin, who deserted the American Embassy with the top secret code of the United States, have not been told. Actually this incident was just as severe a blow to us as the desertion of Soviet code clerk Igor Gouzenko in Canada was to Russia.

McMillin was the son of a West Point graduate and a colonel in the regular Army. With the secret code he gave the Russians, the Kremlin is now able to read the following highly important messages regarding U. S. plans for the defense of Europe.

1. Conversations with Franco Spain by which the American Army is to dig in behind the Pyrennes in case of war with Russia.

2. Conversations with France for defense of the Rhine in case of war with Russia.

3. Conversations with Iran for U. S. support of the Iranian Army in case of Soviet invasion.

Russia Has Our Secrets

These and other highly confidential messages were sent to Ambassador Bedell Smith in Moscow. Just why military messages were sent to the American Ambassador in Moscow is not known. It is understandable that Smith should have received all reports from the Bureau of Fisheries, but sending military messages to Moscow, even in code, was risky.

Today these are no longer secret. The Russians have them, can publish them whenever they please, just as Canada published the information unearthed from the confessions of code-clerk Gouzenko.

While it was partly Sgt. McMillin's infatuation with Russian glamour-girl Galina Dunaeva Bicenish that lured him from his own country, friends believe it was also the military nature of the messages he was decoding which helped influence him.

All this, plus the daughter of the Commerce Department assistant now working for the Soviet Tass News Agency, plus the large and youthful following of Henry Wallace, make it appear that the United States is losing part of the cold war with some of its own younger generation.

And while this columnist is convinced we are basically right in maintaining a firm policy and a big air force against Russia, yet we have made the mistake of offering no alternative to the mailed fist.

If, however, we kept the mailed fist in one hand and held an olive branch—friendship with the Russian people—in the other hand, we might be on firmer psychological ground both at home and abroad.

Friendship Letters

During March and April, millions of friendship letters were sent to Italy. They had an important effect on the Italian elections, helped score a victory for democracy. Prior to that, a series of friendship trains visited Europe at a time when the U.S. Government was slow about sending food to Europe. Both these projects were initiated and executed solely by the American people. The Government had nothing to do with them.

Governments always move slowly. The U.S. Government is no exception. However, time is all-important in combatting war and winning friendships. And if we have the friendship of the Russian people, it becomes more difficult for the Kremlin to fight. So, while waiting for the State Department to do something about penetrating the Iron Curtain, there is no reason why the American people can't operate on their own—as for instance, starting a friendship-letter campaign to Europe, especially to people behind the Iron Curtain.

There is no censorship on mail to Russia. And while the number of Russian-Americans living in this country is nowhere near the number of Italo-Americans, even a small group of Russian-Americans could supply the names and addresses of many Russians in Russia for correspondence purposes.

Friendship letters to all the countries of Europe — England, France, Germany also those behind the Iron Curtain—Poland, Czechoslovakia, Jugoslavia — can be most effective.

They can help to refute the

Mrs. Carroll Gorden
South Norwalk, Conn.

Dears Mrs. Gorden,

Your son was around this morning to see me about a job. We had a long talk and I agree with you that Larry is a heck of a nice kid. But I didn't hire him, and I think I ought to tell you why.

The first question I asked him was, "What can you do?" Larry said he wasn't sure. He was graduating from Yale this month, had taken courses in a dozen subjects, and had majored in English Literature.

"Supposing I took you on?" I said, "what chores could you handle? Do you know shorthand? Can you type? Are you a crack at figures? Can you write an ad? Specifically, what skill would you swap for your salary check?"

Larry said he could type a little.

"A little isn't any good around here, we want it in a hurry."

"I'm willing to start at the bottom," said your son, "emptying wastebaskets or changing typewriter ribbons."

"I have a porter who's pretty good at emptying baskets," I said. "Do you think you could do it any better than he does?"

Larry said he guessed he couldn't.

"A mechanic comes around every couple of weeks to change typewriter ribbons and clean the machines," I went on. "He does a complete job on a typewriter in five minutes. Can you beat his time?"

Larry admitted that the last time he changed a ribbon it had taken him twenty minutes.

Well, Mrs. Gorden, it went on like that for half an hour. Larry admitted he was suffering from what Oscar Levant calls "a smattering of ignorance." He knew a little about a lot of things but not much about any one of them.

I assured Larry I wasn't finding fault with out liberal arts system of education—that I wished I had a few semesters myself. But, as I saw it, this was the age of the specialist. Charm and good manners were worth up to thirty a week. After that, the pay-off was in direct ratio to the amount of specialized know-how in a fellow's head.

"If you can stand a little biography this early in the morning," I said to Larry, "I think I can prove my point. When I entered the High School of Commerce back in 1915, neither I nor my folks had ever seen a fifty-dollar bill. Milk and eggs were sometime things around our house. It was up to me to do something about it.

"Well, twenty-four months later, I was earning $75 a week—big money thirty years back. By concentrating on one subject—shorthand— I had solved the eating problem for the whole family. I could write 200 words a minute, and when I approached the door marked "Private," it swung open as though an electric eye were winking. Bosses knew I was a specialist, and a handy guy to have around."

"Are you suggesting I become a shorthand expert?" Larry asked me.

"Not necessarily," I said. "I don't care whether you specialize in toothpicks, doorknobs or electrolytic condensers—as long as you specialize. In our cockeyed civilization, there's not much jack for the jack-of-all-trades."

"You make life sound pretty depressing," said Larry.

"In a way it is," I said, "but eating spaghetti every night is even more depressing. What do you think you could do real well if you put your mind to it?"

"I like to draw," said your son. "Is there any money in scenic designing?"

"M-G-M- pays Cedric Gibbons a couple of thousand a week," I said.

"I'll be in to see you next, June," said Larry.

And that's how we left it.

Platform Writing Might Cause Much Trouble at Both National Conventions

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Washington, June 4—While almost everybody is talking or thinking about presidential candidates, the task of writing a platform that doesn't repudiate one's own party members emerges as likely to cause plenty of trouble at both national conventions.

Whatever committee writes the Democratic platform will not be able to pay tribute to the gods of consistency on the matter of labor legislation. Thus, President Truman not only vetoed the Taft-Hartley bill but has denounced it several times since it became law over his veto. Yet 107 out of 178 Democrats in the House of Representatives voted to override that veto. So did 20 Democrats out of 42 in the Senate.

A platform plank condemning the Taft-Hartley Act might be very pleasing to the "left wing" of the Democratic party, but it certainly would antagonize a majority of the Democrats in the House running for re-election. As for the Senate, eleven seats up for election this year whose occupants voted to override the veto are in southern states where winning the Democratic primaries is equivalent to election. All northern Democrats up for re-election in the Senate this autumn voted to sustain the veto, so there is less embarrassment on that score.

In the matter of the veto of the tax bill, too, the writers of the Democratic platform will have to watch their phrasing lest they condemn a majority of the Democrats in both Houses. Thus 88 of the Democrats in the House are recorded in favor of the tax bill that became law over the veto and 91 against. But in the Senate there were 28 Democrats recorded in favor of overriding the veto and 11 to sustain. The combined vote of both Houses among the Democrats was 116 as voting to override the veto and 102 to sustain.

If the Democratic platform attempts to condemn the passage of the tax law, it will be reflecting on many members of the House and Senate. Many of these are in the southern states, of course, which means that the rift between the administration and the south will become deeper as the platform writers ignore the votes of a substantial number of Democrats in Congress.

The Republicans are not without a problem, too. Here the cleavage is between isolationism and internationalism. There have been a number of votes in Congress on Marshall Plan aid and there will be some yet on the draft which could prove embarrassing to any platform writers. The chances are that the Republican platform will approve the Marshall Plan and will point to amendments already inserted to safeguard the plan against waste and maladministration. It will be recalled that only at Republican insistence was the plan divorced from State Department control and placed in the hands of a business administrator.

There is, of course, a sharp difference of opinion among Republicans on international issues. The keynote speeches will have to be carefully worded to avoid embarrassments. If the convention gets into a platform fight on the wisdom of the bi-partisan policy in foreign affairs, it could mean plenty of ammunition for the Democrats, some of whom are quietly thinking already that if Senator Vandenberg, for instance, is not nominated, it will afford an opportunity for attack on the ground that the bi-partisan policy will have been repudiated.

It is generally agreed, on the other hand, that any Democratic attack on international issues will be rendered impractical if Vandenberg is the nominee. The issues then will become largely domestic and veer toward a "left" and "right" debate. Inflation and the cost of living will be played up by the Democrats as their principal point with an attempt to persuade the electorate that price-fixing by O.P.A. should have been retained.

AS PEGLER SEES IT

By WESTBROOK PEGLER

Washington, June 3—In reading the material presented here today bear in mind:

1.—That Nicholas Roerich, who wrote these letters from Asia to Louis L. Horch, his chief disciple, in New York, was engaged in a political mission disguised as an innocent botanical quest.

2.—That Henry A. Wallace, who stealthily sent Roerich on this trip, bypassing the State Department which would have refused to give him American credentials, was a great friend of Horch. He trusted Horch so greatly that he continued to give him positions of trust in the Department of Agriculture and the Department of Commerce long after he and Horch had quarreled with Roerich.

3.—That while Horch plainly was a party to the hidden, political mission in Asia, and was exploiting Wallace's official position as a member of the Roosevelt cabinet, Wallace himself apparently believed that Roerich had no purpose but to collect grass seed. He, too, may have been in on the political plot, but my study of the material leaves me in doubt.

The following are excerpts from letters written by Roerich to Horch, who has testified that, at the time, he and others believed that Roerich was a divine person:

"May 1, 1934:

"In Seattle we met a group of very good people.——agreed to be the representative of our books. (Esoteric, mystical, poetic stuff, unconnected with Botany. W.P.) I remember your promise which was given before the image by all of you upstairs. This was a solemn hour. Let it be forever preserved in the consciousness as an unalterable oath. Honor to those who keep it. Sorrow to those who break it * * * * the State Department informs us that we kidnap the Dalai Lama with all his treasurers. The Dalai Lama we liberated but the treasures we took away."

Inasmuch as the State Department was vigorously snubbing Roerich the foregoing reference is presented strictly as is. I don't undertake to interpret it.

"May 23, 1934:

"Let Morris act strongly in the museum committee. (I expect to identify 'Morris' postively later. There was deeply implicated in this circle at the time a New Dealer of that name who had strong influence at the White House. W.P.) On the 24th we leave for Kioto, Nara and at once cross over to Korea and further. Tomorrow I shall address a group of women on unity. Elect Dr. Teiji Tsubokami honorary adviser and honorary member (of the Roerich Society) for his services in the field of culture. Give him the insignia, second class. Of course diplomas with gold seals. Also elect as honorary members the president of the Imperial Japanese Academy of Art, Masaki Nachiko, and the celebrated artists Kemuro. Suiun and Yokayama Taikan. Of course everywhere gold seal. It is strange that we have no cable about departure of MacMillan. (One of the American botanists whom Wallace made subordinate to the Russian guru. W. P.) Tell the friend that personally to us is everywhere excellent attitude. (Roerich frequently referred to Henry Wallace as 'the friend.' W.P.) As usual only the American Ambassador Joseph E. Grew did harm! He refused to transmit to the palace our book while the palace wanted already to have it. The ambassador said they will do it only if they receive a special order from the State Department. It is a pity that the palace remained without a book."

The guru wanted to give the Japanese emperor a copy of a book of his and hang around his neck the insigna of his society, first class. But Grew knew that the emperor did not accept knick-knacks from mere mortals. He knew, furthermore, that Roerich was trying to ballyhoo his cult by the publicity which such presentations would arouse.

The guru now listed luncheons and receptions for him by the minister of war, minister and vice-minister of foreign affairs and minister of education, and boasted that his party had not to pay any duty nor even submit to custom inspection. They got free railroad tickets, too. Roerich was so proud of all this that he asked Horch to see that "the friend" heard all about it.

In a letter dated May 25, Roerich "send the book, Himalaya, and one banner of peace to Tokyo. Certainly we will not touch the State Department. You yourselves understand. If also Savad. Will demand to send it throught the State Department. It is best to drop the entire thing. You may dispatch to Kioto by direct boat in the name of the mayor the 17,000 paintings with the list. Morris knows. (That subtle, but powerful New Dealer again? W.P.) It is curious that the American ambassador know of friendship for us of our friend. (Wallace. W.P.)"

A letter dated June 1 requested Horch to send ten copies of a book which praised him extravagantly. Roerich used to hand them around.

"Conquer the difficulties because the great signs are good," this one continued. "Preserve unity and love each other and do as is best. In spirit with you."

A letter dated June 15 said "unknown whisperers were found who started the usual slander and now the published book is considered in certain circles to be a masonic one." A reproduction of one of his paintings in this book was regarded by the people of Harbin as sacrilegious. They regarded the all-seeing eye as a Masonic emblem. Henry Morgenthau wrote last year that Wallace slyly persuaded him to print on the American one-dollar bill the all-seeing eye and the unfinished pyramid of the great seal of the United States. He later discovered that Wallace was interested in it because it was significant to a certain religious sect. The all-seeing eye now appears to have had some symbolic value in the Roerich cult.

On June 16, 1934, Roerich addressed Horch as "my own."

"I write you to different addresses," he began. We are left to

Swope Declines Decoration

New York, June 4 (AP)—Industrialist Gerard Swope has declined a British government decoration, saying he is "without respect" for Britain's policy on Palestine. Swope said yesterday he had turned down an award as an "honorary commander of the most excellent order of the British Empire." He said in a letter to British Ambassador Sir Oliver Franks that in the last year "in spite of the repeated recommendation of several commissions of your own government, of an American-British commission, and then finally of the action of the United Nations of a separate state in Palestine, the vacillating, reprehensible and non-constructive attitude of your government has left me without respect for its position."

Kingston Students In Mechanics Lines At Night School

A group of photographs of apprenticeship students at work in the local Vocational School have been sent to Lake Placid for exhibition at the Eastern Seaboard Apprenticeship Conference there on June 24, 25 and 26.

The photographs, taken by Hubert Hoderath, director of the Vocational School, show the apprentices during classes at the automotive shop, the electric shop and the apprentice shop.

The apprenticeship program was set up about two years ago in this city under the direction and supervision of the New York State Apprenticeship Council. At present there are 48 students, most of whom are veterans of the second World War.

These apprentices are under contract with local employers in the fields of electricity, plumbing or automobile mechanics. They attend school two nights a week, at which time they are given related instruction and theory in addition to the practical experience they receive on the job.

The program is limited to those who are 18 years of age or older.

Eisenhower Is Quoted As Being Republican

New York, June 4 (AP)—Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower is quoted in the current issue of Pathfinder News Magazine as saying he could not run for the presidency on the Democratic ticket because "he is a Republican."

In its column, "Under the Dome," the magazine said:

"In an exclusive statement to Pathfinder, the retired general said that he could never run for the presidency on a Democratic ticket for the simple reason that he is a Republican. He will support whoever the Republicans nominate."

Eisenhower, president-designate of Columbia University, could not be reached immediately for comment. However, a spokesman for the general said last week, when asked to comment on the Pathfinder article, that Eisenhower had told him that never to his knowledge had he "indicated to anyone at any time any thought which could be interpreted in such a way."

TRY SHOULDER ROAST FOR ECONOMY

By GAYNOR MADDOX
NEA Staff Writer

A shoulder roast of lamb is as flavorsome, tender and juicy as a leg of lamb, yet a somewhat more economical buy. When serving a shoulder lamb roast, garnish with apricot halves stuffed with cream cheese and topped with sprigs of crisp watercress.

Low temperature cooking is as important in roasting lamb as in cooking all other kinds of meat. For roasting, wipe meat with a damp cloth, then sprinkle well with salt and pepper and place on a rack in an open pan, preferably one just a little larger than the roast. For an accurate guide to doneness, use a meat thermometer. Insert the thermometer in the thickest, meatiest part of the roast. Be sure not to let the bulb of thermometer touch fat, bone or gristle. Place roast in a moderately low oven (325 degrees F.) for 35 minutes per pound or until the meat thermometer registers an internal temperature of 182 degrees F. It is not necessary to baste the roast while cooking.

Garlic, that favorite lamb seasoning, may be used in roasting lamb. Grate a clove of garlic and add to 2 tablespoons olive oil, melted butter or fortified margarine. With a pastry brush, paint the top of roast with this mixture. In this way the garlic flavor will be evenly distributed and not too obvious.

Lamb shanks are delicious when baked in a snappily seasoned sauce. One lamb shank is ample for each serving, as they weigh ¾ to 1 pound apiece.

Savory Lamb Shanks
(Serves 4)

Four small lamb shanks, 3 tablespoons lard or other fat, 1 cup meat stock or water, 2 teaspoons Worcestershire sauce, 1½ teaspoons horseradish, 1, tablespoon vinegar, ½ teaspoon salt, few grains pepper, flour.

Roll lamb shanks in flour and brown in hot fat in a skillet. Remove to a large casserole. Stir 1 tablespoon flour into remaining fat in skillet, add 1 cup of water gradually, and stir until thickened. Add horseradish, Worcestershire sauce, vinegar, salt and pepper. Pour over lamb shanks and cover casserole. Bake in a moderately slow oven (325 degrees F.) for about 2 hours or until tender.

SUNDAY'S MENU

BREAKFAST: Orange juice, ready-to-eat cereal, scrambled eggs, enriched toast, butter or fortified margarine, coffee, milk.

DINNER: Shoulder roast of lamb, roasted potatoes, fresh asparagus, garden salad, enriched bread, butter or fortified margarine, ice cream sundae with fresh fruit topping, coffee, milk.

SUPPER: Mixed vegetable salad, cottage cheese, French dressing, hot baking powder biscuits, butter or fortified margarine, homemade jelly, stewed dried fruit, cookies, iced tea, milk.

Too Many Toll Roads

New York, June 4 (AP)—Toll highways and bridges are strangling the free flow of traffic to and from New York city, Arthur C. Butler, director of the National Highway Users Conference, said yesterday. Butler, speaking at a gatherings of New York state automobile dealers, said at least 20 per cent of the traffic congestion in metropolitan highways was caused by motorists' efforts to dodge toll routes and crowd into the arteries. "This state in the vicinity of New York city is so heavily surrounded and infiltrated with toll gates and bridges that it may soon become necessary for the car driver to strap on a coin changer to shorten the many delays at the large number of toll houses," he said.

Decontrol System Explained Here By Rent Director

Paper on Zucca Death Adopted by Kiwanis; Club Feels Loss Very Keenly

Regulations on rent control, including those recently in effect, were explained by Charles C. Hoag, director in the Poughkeepsie area rent office at the Kiwanis luncheon meeting in the Governor Clinton Hotel Thursday.

Provisions permitting decontrol in the area and various rights of both tenant and landlord were explained by the speaker, who stressed that his office draws criticism and protests from all sources.

Congress, he said, has indicated that something must be done about inequitable rents, but did not say exactly what should be done. In his office, he said, "We are trying to do our best," to carry out a program of equitable adjustments, and fulfill the apparent intentions of Congress.

The problem of handling evictions, he said, is largely subject to local laws, but the Poughkeepsie office is entitled to act on evictions under certain conditions.

The speaker read types of complaints received in letters and cited some of the problems handled by the office. A five-man board with A. J. Burns of Kingston as a member, is a controlling factor in the handling of problems. The office, he said, makes its mistakes, but "We do not want to be wrong." All problems and complaints, he indicated, are given due study and consideration.

Harry Rigby, Jr., vice-president, presided in the absence of William F. Leehive, president.

A resolution in memory of the late Paul A. Zucca, was read and adopted at the meeting. It was prepared by a special committee composed of Roger H. Loughran, R. Frederick Chidsey and Edward M. Huben. The secretary was directed to include a copy in the minutes and to mail a copy to the family of the deceased.

The resolution follows:

"Paul will not be here today.

"To say we miss him is like the soldier saying he misses his arm or his leg after it has been shot off or like the family saying they miss their house after it has burned down. Paul was a part of the club and to those whose good fortune it was to be a member with him, the club will never be the same; it is only to the future members that the club will seem a well-rounded entity because they will not know what Paul supplied and what we now lack.

"No more will we see his cheery smile, feel his friendly handshake nor hear his sincere greeting. When there is a gap in a program we shall not be able to turn to Paul with his ready wit and active imagination to keep things moving. He was never at loss for a clever reply but his humor was of the sort which never had a tinge of animosity and his repartee never smarted. He was always willing to do more than his share in any undertaking which the club sponsored.

"May we, who survive him, endeavor to carry on, as best we can, the spirit which he showed because it is what he would wish us to do and because it is one way of exemplifying the ideals of Kiwanis.

"We all deeply regret that Paul has led us in his last closing song."

Can't Increase Fares

New York, June 4 (AP)—An application of the New York, New Haven and Hartford railroad for an increase in commutation fares in New York state has been turned down by the Public Service Commission. In ruling on the case yesterday, the commission said the company failed to show its state commuter operations were not profitable.

HIGHLAND NEWS

Highland, June 4—Mr. and Mrs. James Denton and son have moved from the Milton road into the Curtis Eldred house on the North road.

Mrs. Edison Dimsey is substituting in the 3B grade this week for Miss Helen Lucy; Mrs. Earl Marian in 2B grade for Mrs. Edith Longendyke, and Mrs. Gertrude Gaffney for Mrs. Fred Boyer, 3A grade. Miss Shirley Sharrock was absent Tuesday and Miss Jean McPhail has been absent two weeks on account of illness.

William J. Upright, Charles Scott and friend from Clintondale returned Monday from Indian Lake where they had been on a fishing trip.

The Memorial Day parade and services as planned by Lloyd Post American Legion were successfully carried out. The parade was led by William Thompson, Fred Bragg, Harvey Slater, Jack LaFalce, Jr., color guard; James Cruthers band, Poughkeepsie; Lloyd Post, Cub Scouts accompanied by Mrs. Edison Dimsey, Mrs. W. H. Maynard, Mrs. Hobart Kurtz; Scout Troop, cars with town officials, high school band, Holy Name Society, firemen with three pieces of apparatus, Milton firemen with engine, Clintondale engine, four pieces from West Point, eight horseback riders, 22 bicycle riders, truck with Brownies group, Queen Esther car decorated in yellow and green, truck carrying a donkey for the Democratic Club of Town of Lloyd, P.E.O. car decorated in yellow and white, Court Nilan car with purple and gold trimmings, Lloyd Rod and Gun Club with open truck containing a boat, open camp and a smoking campfire and the Ida McKinley Council car trimmed with the national colors. At the soldier's monument in the cemetery Commander David Murphy introduced Hon. Edward Conger, judge of the United States District Court, who gave the address. The invocation was given by the Rev. Oscar Jelsma, Presbyterian pastor and the benediction by the Rev. Herbert Greenland of the Methodist Church. Returning over Tilison avenue to the Milton road, a stop was made at the 156th Regiment monument where a wreath was placed and a salute fired. At the plaque of World War I in the Methodist Church yard, Assemblyman John F. Wadlin was the speaker and the invocation and benediction given by the Rev. Frank Butler of Holy Trinity Episcopal Church.

Miss Frances Fagan joined her sister in New York for the week-end.

Bordon Upright, Hartford, Conn., spent the week-end here with his mother, Mrs. W. J. Upright.

Mr. and Mrs. Lorin E. Osterhoudt drove to Providencetown, Cape Cod, over the week-end.

Edward Terra is a patient at St. Francis Hospital.

Mrs. Paul Maroldt spent last week in Lake Placid attending sessions of the State Catholic Daughters' convention. She accompanied Mrs. Margaret Gorman and party from Kingston.

Mrs. Arthur Clarke, Mrs. Gordon Wilcox and Harold Berean acted as judges for the floats and bicycles taking part in the Memorial Day parade. They were stationed on the porch at the Legion house. The decision of the best float went to the Democratic Club of the Town of Lloyd for their emblem with a very much alive donkey. Lloyd Rod and Gun Club was the second choice. George Rhodes had the best trimmed bicycle with honorable mention going to John Sagarese.

Mr. and Mrs. William Cramer entertained Sunday for the 75th birthday of Mrs. Cramer's father, Irving Churchill. His daughters, Mrs. Laura Hunt, Mr. and Mrs. George Muntz and children, Marilyn, Myrna and Eugene, Mrs. Fred Munroe and Mrs. Alice Jacoby all of Poughkeepsie were the guests.

Miss Patricia Coy, a student at Katherine Gibbs school, New York, spent the week-end with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Coy.

Gordon Kurtz was here from New York over Sunday. He starts his vacation next week with two friends in a two-week trip to Cuba. His father, Daniel Kurtz, is improving and able to sit up following his illness.

Mrs. Bertram Cottine went to New York Saturday to meet the brother of her late husband, Rudolph Edward Cottine, Los Angeles, Calif. The latter is east on business.

The officers of Highland Chapter Order of Eastern Star met Tuesday evening for rehearsal preparatory to initiation of two candidates next Tuesday.

Mrs. Frank F. Simpson and her father, Henry Mollenhauer, attended the graduation of the former's son, Hugh Simpson, at Cobleskill. Mr. Simpson completed the course in agriculture and is now with his uncle on a dairy farm near Rosendale.

Judge Says Foreign Government Had Hand

New York, June 4 (AP)—A New York judge says "a foreign government" had a hand in the recent stock exchange strike, which was marked by mass picketing, disorders and arrests.

Judge Frederick L. Hackenburg, handling a picket case yesterday in Specials Sessions Court, said "outsiders" went to the financial district "under compulsion."

"This compulsion," he declared, "did not come from within the territory of the United States, but was dictated by a foreign government which under the guise of ideology tries to start trouble so that they can publish in Moscow 'riots in Wall street.'"

The judge made the comment as John Flynn, 32, of New York, a member of the Seafarers' International Union (A.F.L.) was given a suspended one year jail term on a third degree assault charge.

The Seafarers' union, which joined members of Local 205 of the United Financial Employes (A.F.L.) in picketing the stock exchange, frequently has expressed an anti-Communist stand. Its officials were not available for comment on the judge's charge.

Flynn was one of several pickets arrested in a disturbance in the Wall street district on March 31.

McKENNEY ON BRIDGE

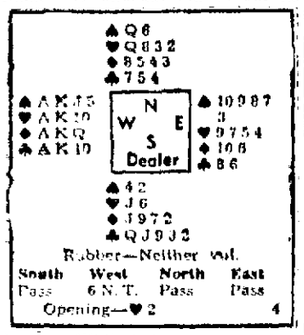
Unusual Bid Offers Interesting Play

By WILLIAM E. McKENNEY
America's Card Authority
Written for NEA Service

Several of the hands published in this column each month are sent to me by readers. I like to publish hands played in home groups and local bridge clubs if they are interesting and have some reader value. The fact that a player held 13 spades does not make a good story because there is so little possibility of holding such a hand.

Today's hand came from Harry D. Whitney, an optometrist of Endicott, N. Y. The other three players were Robert Johnson, superintendent of the Ideal Hospital, Ward Allen of Allen's Funeral Home, and Jay Nagle, a superintendent of the Metropolitan Life Insurance Co., all of Endicott.

As Mr. Whitney did not tell me where the respective players sat, I do not know which one of them made the unusual bid of six no trump. While it is an unusual bid, even the expert will make some such bid occasionally with a hand like West held, feeling perhaps that that is the only way to get an unusual result.



Rubber—Neither vul.

South	West	North	East
Pass	6 N.T.	Pass	Pass
Opening—♥ 2			4

North's opening lead of the deuce of hearts forced South's jack and declarer won with the ace. West realized that if the suits split broke two-two, he could count 12 tricks. But if he played on the spade suit and it did not break, he would be in trouble.

Deciding to make the opponents guess once more, he cashed the king of hearts, then led the heart ten. Believe it or not, North refused to win the ten with the queen. He too wanted to make declarer guess which suit to play.

Now there was nothing for West to do but to cash the ace and king of spades. When the queen dropped he cashed the jack of spades, led the five-spot over to dummy and discarded the ten of clubs on dummy's good spade, making seven odd.

Students Go Abroad

New York, June 4 (AP)—Some 400 American students were on their way to Europe today—in quest of education. They were the first of approximately 6,400 U. S. students scheduled to go abroad this summer for study under a student exchange program worked out with other nations by the State Department. The first group sailed yesterday aboard the government-owned liner Marine Tiger. Another government vessel, the Marine Jumper, is scheduled to leave here June 16 with 600 students. Last year, about 4,500 students visited Europe under the program.

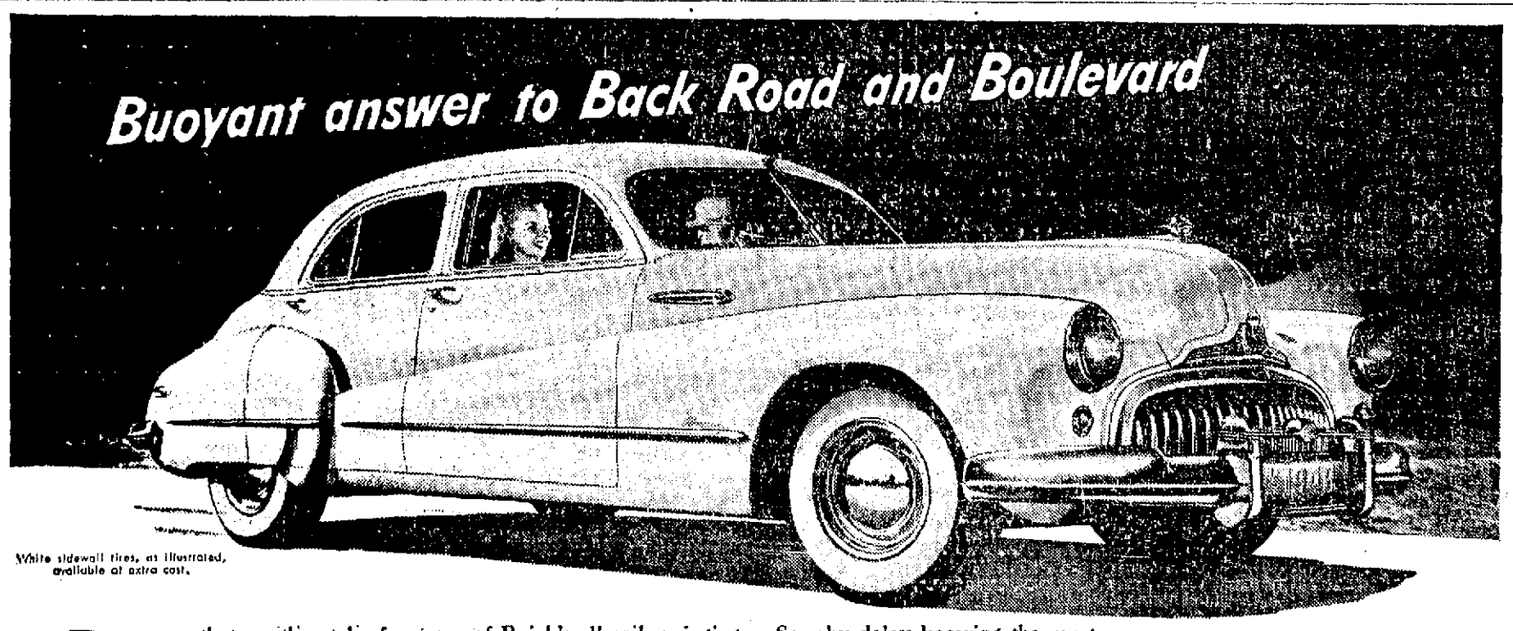
Agreement Provides Hotel Employes Boost

George E. Yerry, Jr., business agent of the Hotel, Restaurant and Bartenders Local 666, A. F. of L., today announced that an agreement has been negotiated with the Governor Clinton Hotel providing for a 10 per cent wage increase for all of its employes, effective June 4.

The announcement said also that all of the other provisions of the original agreement of July 16, 1946, and of July 1, 1947, remain in full force and effect.

Senator Arthur H. Wicks, president of the hotel corporation, has confirmed this announcement, Yerry said.

Buoyant answer to Back Road and Boulevard



White sidewall tires, as illustrated, available at extra cost.

REMEMBER that rough patch of road up yonder where the ruts and ridges make a washboard seem smooth?

Recall the tiring tenseness brought on by the drum and hum of road noise and tremor even over smooth concrete highways?

Well, clock away the miles in this stunningly styled Buick — and meet up with the sweetest answer to such matters this side of cloud cruising.

"It's a ride that's soft and smooth as velvet," folks tell us. And we tell them it comes from a host of things.

It comes from the ample road-weight of a two-ton car built low and wide — and so beautifully balanced it handles light as a baton.

It comes from the leveling buoyancy of Buick's all-coil springing which puts a pillow of deeply coiled steel at each wheel to soak up the bumps and ripples.

It comes from the softness of bigger, lower-pressure tires that cushion away road tremors and roughness — from the sure-footed, swerve-free steadiness of Buick's extra wide Safety-Ride rims, widest in the industry.

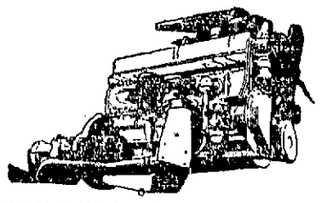
And it comes in special measure from a brand-new engineering gem we call Vibra-Shielding which banishes vibration build-up.

Here for the first time you're freed from the motoring fatigue brought on by tiny tremors piling up into bigger ones. Here your miles are made moss-smooth and quiet — long journeys become mere jaunts.

So why delay knowing the most buoyant answer to any road you ever traveled?

Come visit us now. Know at first hand the distinctive styling, the flashing action, the velvety ride over highway and byway that are Buick's and Buick's alone.

Then follow your heart's desire and get your order in promptly. We'll take it in proper sequence whether or not you have a car to trade.



REASON FOR THE VIBRA-SHIELDED RIDE

Placed with scientific exactness, 3 fat cushions of special composition cradle the engine so as to control its vibration frequency. Engine vibration is thus kept "out of tune" with those that might come from other parts of the car. The result is to shield car occupants against tiring pulsations, cut road noise, make engine sensation almost imperceptible and motoring practically fatigue-free.

Boys—Dogs—Windows

By FRANK TRIPP

We were having a little trouble with Turk riding his velocipede on the street. Though where he lives traffic is light and cautious, his practice posed a considerable problem.

When he got old enough to ride four blocks down to our house he had to cross a busy street. It was hard to impress the danger upon him and he worried us much.

Then, during the Winter, he lost his dog, Flaps. Advertising brought no word until men who were clearing snow uncovered the body of a beautiful black and white spaniel. It was Flaps. He had been killed by a car, and covered by falling snow.

It was near where Turk crossed the busy street. A new approach occurred to us. We explained that Flaps, with all his speed and cunning, couldn't get across the street—and was killed.

Turk's respect for Flaps' agility did the trick. Since then he hasn't ridden on that street. Every time he approaches it he says, "that's where Flaps got killed."

This same Turk, who is my grandson, lately entered upon a considerable adventure for a four-year-old.

He came upon a croquet mallet and pondered just what exciting thing might be done with such a tool. He pounded with it on the ground. Not very satisfactory; no noise. The walk was better but that was only a hollow sound.

At that moment a neighbor's garage caught his eye; a garage with windows all around it, and small panes of glass. One wallop on a lower pane brought the desired result. As the rascal walked around the building, every pane fell with a crash, as high as his mallet would reach.

Finally the fun was over—all the glass was gone. Ah, but there was another garage next door. To that he went; though with less destructive result, for after the fourth pane was shattered the owner showed up.

It was too bad, Turk must have thought, with his work only half done. Still he had a pretty good day. He cleaned out 36 panes, stuck to the sash; would have done much better with a longer mallet. Happily his father is in the hardware business.

Probably no man lives who cannot tell a story from his boyhood about dogs and windows. Boys, dogs and windows seem to be inseparable. There's something about the combination that both tempts and tempers a youngster's imagination. Windows tempt; dogs temper.

I knew a fellow once who owned a shed at the rear of a city lot. There was a window facing an alley. He bought a case of small panes of glass that fitted the sash. Glass was cheap then and he could put in panes himself.

Every now and then he'd find the glass stoned out of the back window. He would replace the glass, then round up the kids of the neighborhood. He never made 'em pay, nor did they ever deny their guilt. They mowed his grass, raked his yard and shovelled his walks. That was the penance—and proof that crime doesn't pay.

One time, when I was a kid, Joe-Joe McLaughlin and I went in the old rag, bottle and bone business. The man who bought these was two miles away. One wheelbarrow filled brought up 15 cents for a whole day's work and a four-mile walk to deliver. See how much you can get two kids to do today for 15 cents.

Bones brought the most money. Up the street a man owned a big dog, so vicious he couldn't associate with our mongrels. He was tied to a wire that just let him cross the yard and back.

One end of the wire was at his doghouse. About it always was a precious pile of bones which he guarded with his life. These bones meant dough to Joe-Joe and me, pennies anywny.

By golly we got 'em. We took our wheelebarrow up the alley, back of the doghouse. Joe-Joe got ready to climb the fence. I sneaked around front and teased the dog. He forsook his bones and ran after me as far as the wire would let him go. Joe-Joe threw the bones over the fence and we got away with our plunder before the dog's master appeared. As I recall it the risky enterprise netted us about six cents.

Every time I give a dog a bone, I console myself that it's a conscience payment for robbing a dog almost 80 years ago.

'Frozen Food Facts' To Be Shown at Hurley

A demonstration, "Frozen Food Facts," will be given at the Hurley school on June 7 at 8 p. m., by Miss Marie Reese of Albany. Arrangements for Miss Reese's appearance were made by Everett Van Kleeck & Co.

Preparation of a complete meal from frozen food will be shown, and methods of preserving meats, fruits, vegetables, pastries and the like will be explained by Miss Reese. There will also be an exhibition of International Harvester freezers of both the 11 and the four cubic foot sizes.

These freezers will feature a large single lid which is spring counter balanced and cannot spring shut. They are produced at International Harvester's new refrigeration plant at Evansville, Ind., recently acquired by purchase from the Reconstruction Finance Corporation. The company expects to soon produce freezers of larger capacity as well as refrigerators of both conventional and two-temperature design.

The public is invited to attend the demonstration at Hurley. Refreshments will be served.

Transportaion Provided

In Korea, royal funeral processions, which wend their way more than 30 miles between Seoul and Kimkokri, are accompained by several wooden horses. These are taken along to furnish the departing soul with a means of transportation into the next world.

Volcanic Fury

The volcanic Mount Pelee, on Martinique, after 51 years of inactivity, on May 8, 1902, gave vent to its pent-up fury in a blast that sent a stifling cloud 13,000 feet into the air. As this steaming mass reached St. Pierre, people died like flies.

Couples Meet for 10th Occasion of Silver Wedding Anniversaries Honoring Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Arnold

A group of friends gathered Wednesday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John W. Matthews of Richmond Park for a dinner party in honor of the 25th wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Charles L. Arnold, 175 Manor avenue. The table was lighted with candles and decorated with roses, snapdragons and carnations. Each guest had a corsage. During the evening a gift of silver was presented to the honored guests.

The party was composed of 10 couples who for 18 years have included in their social affairs the celebration of the silver anniversaries of their members. The party Wednesday evening was the 10th such event. Since Mr. and Mrs. Harry Klothe's anniversary was the last celebrated, it was Mr. Klothe's privilege to present the gift to Mr. and Mrs. Arnold. In a few well chosen words Mr. Arnold responded. Mrs. Klothe has kept the record of the anniversaries and recalled them at the party. A decorated wedding cake was cut by the bride.

Those attending the dinner for Mr. and Mrs. Arnold were Mrs. Bernard W. Healy of Upper Montclair, N. J., formerly of this city; Mr. and Mrs. Chester Dumond of Albany; Mr. and Mrs. Charles Snyder, Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Holt N. Winfield, Mr. and Mrs. Jay W. Riffenbary, Mr. and Mrs. Harold S. Brigham, Mr. and Mrs. Matthews, Mr. and Mrs. Klothe.

Good Taste Today

By Emily Post

(Author of "Etiquette," "Children Are People," etc.)

The real issue at stake is overlooked in this letter explaining: "The hostess places two honor guests at a woman's lunch, one on each side of her. The waitress begins serving the hostess and proceeds to the right. The second honor guest on the left of the hostess gets what's left every time. To me, it just doesn't make sense. Would it not be good form if this second lady were served after the hostess to at least some of the fresh dishes?"

The first rule of courtesy is that the fresh untouched dishes be presented first to the guest of honor—in this case, the lady at the right of the hotess. However, many hostesses do have at least one course presented first to the lady on her left and then around the table from that direction. In both cases, courtesy demands that the hostess be served last.

Thank-You Notes Even in Business

Dear Mrs. Post: Because of a very excellent promotion in business, my husband has been receiving congratulatory letters from many officials of this company and others around the country. He has thanked the ones he sees, but what about the others? Must he write notes?

Answer: Of course he should write notes. If he is hoping for a successful business career, it would be a most serious mistake for him to start out by being rude.

Eating Sliced Canned Pineapple

Dear Mrs. Post: How should sliced canned pineapple, served for dessert, be eaten?

Answer: Correctly, as with all desserts, a fork and spoon should both be put on the dessert plate, the fork to hold the slice down in the plate and the spoon to cut and eat each bite. However, pineapple is one of the fruits that can be eaten easily with spoon alone so, therefore, the fork may be omitted.

Marking the Mailbox

Dear Mrs. Post: Our mailbox downstairs at the door is marked "Mr. and Mrs." I've noticed that some of the other boxes in our apartment building have merely the husband's name. Which way is right?

Answer: The husband's name alone is the most usual, but there is no valid objection to using your "Mr. and Mrs." card if the little window is wide enough for the purpose.

Your letters are word pictures of you for they reveal character and personality. Mrs. Post's booklet, No. 502, "The Etiquette of Letter Writing," gives some model notes and tells how to improve the appearance of a letter. To obtain a copy send 10 cents (coin preferred) and a 3-cent stamp to her, c/o The Kingston Daily Freeman, P.O. Box 99, Station G, New York 19, N. Y. about this sad moral and spiritual condition is the education to which so many are subjected . . . an education from which God is absent . . . and education without moral training, an education slanted only to material things," the speaker said.

Sacred, Divine Trust

He explained the insistence of having Catholic schools, "because we have a sacred and divine trust toward the young committed to our care." He said the children must learn that theirs is "a destiny beyond this life." They must learn of the "dignity of human persons, the nobility of the children of God," and that these truths must be integrated with every phase of education and training.

For this reason he told the young women they had been especially trained in their Catholic school life, for the great opportunity and obligation of living a Christian life and spreading the light of Christianity in the "darkness."

"Whatever you may be, whatever your work or position, you not only can, but you must spread abroad the light of Christian life," the Rev. Father Wuenschel told the class.

He also congratulated the graduates and spoke of the sacrifices made by the teachers and parents for their training.

Congratulates Graduates

The Rt. Rev. Msgr. Martin J. Drury, also congratulated the graduates and urged them to keep the Christian way of life throughout all of their lives.

Monsignor Drury also spoke of remembering the sisters and the schools with gifts of money as they went along in life and found it possible to do so. He spoke of the demands for more equipment and continual change in up-to-date methods of education, all of which need funds for backing. "Don't forget to come back and help the sisters financially," he said.

The school chorus sang three selections Marygrove, U.T.S.V.; Love's Benediction, arranged by Silver; and Sanctus, Gounod. The benediction of the Most Blessed Sacrament concluded the exercises.

The graduates wore the traditional white gowns with blue ribbon bands and carried bouquets of pink roses. The ceremonies took place on the lawn with baskets of flowers for decorations at the graduates' platform.

Awards were made as follows:

Medals for Christian Doctrine presented by the Misses Estelle and Emily Rice in the graduating class to Elizabeth Flynn, Maureen Davis; in third senior class, Joan Ann Van Hoosen, Rosemary Weishaupt, Mary Zales, Nancy Crowley, Dorothy Einemann; second senior class, Jeanne Henderson; first senior class, Ann O'Reilly.

Medals for excellence in studies presented by Justice John T. Loughran and Mrs. Thomas Eckert in the graduating class to Maureen Davis, June Coniglio; third senior class, Rosemary Weishaupt; second senior class, Jeanne Henderson, Rosemary Conway; first senior class, Ann O'Reilly, Eulalia Kelder.

Medal for outstanding loyalty to principle and excellent fulfillment of her office as president of the student body to Elizabeth Dolan.

Special Awards

Special awards to graduates by the Mothers' Association and the Alumnae Association for outstanding scholastic achievement in languages during their high school course for an average of 98 per cent in Albany State Latin Regents for three years to June Coniglio and Maureen Davis; for an average of more than 95 per cent in three years of French to Maureen Davis and June Coniglio; for highest average in mathematics to Elizabeth Ann Flynn; for highest average in chemistry to Maureen Davis.

Honorable mentions for studies in the graduating class were awarded as follows: Joan Burns, first in religion, typewriting, second in English, history, French; Patricia Cowdrey, first in religion, art, second in English, French; Elizabeth Dolan, first in religion, history, French, second in English, typewriting.

Anne Dwyer, first in religion, geometry, second in French; Elizabeth Ann Flynn, first in history, French, typewriting, second in English; Marjorie Roos, first in religion, English, typewriting, second in history, French.

Joan Stauble, first in religion, second in French; Mildred Whalen, first in religion, history, typewriting second in French; Anne Marie Zaccheo, first in religion, French, typewriting.

Island vs. Continent

Every continent is an island but every island is not a continent. The western end of Asia is given the status of a separate continent, under the name of Europe; and the British Isles are a part of the continent of Europe.

Junior Marrieds Have Dinner Meeting; Hear Annual Reports

Junior Married Women's Club of the Y.W.C.A. held its annual dinner meeting Thursday at the New Kirkland Hotel. This was the final meeting until fall and the annual reports were read showing a membership of 63 and contributions to the "Y" Christmas party, canned goods for the Home for the Aged, as well as the many activities for the past year.

Mrs. Ronald Herrick, chairman of the service committee, spoke in particular of the club's story telling hour during the winter months at the Kingston City Library. The librarians reported that more children's books had been taken on loan from the library since the start of the project, than ever before in its history. Also that the books were returned more promptly and in good condition. The average attendance at the hour was 35.

Mrs. Daniel Van Wagenen, retiring president, called for reports from the officers: Mrs. Walter Hubbard, recording secretary; Mrs. Kenneth Groat, vice president; Mrs. William Reardon, treasurer, and Mrs. Albert Roosa who sent in her report as corresponding secretary.

After some discussion following the report of Mrs. Harold Cross, program chairman, it was decided to continue interest groups. Other reports were those of Mrs. Edward DeGroff, entertainment; Mrs. William Costello, hospitality; Mrs. Hugh Elwyn, finance; Mrs. W. I. Rose, membership; Mrs. Henry P. Eighmey, publicity; Mrs. Harold Cross who reported that redecoration of the board room at the "Y" would begin next week; Mrs. Chester Bliss, cancer representative; and special mention by Mrs. Robert Brown, fashion show and Mrs. Rose, campaign.

Arrangements for the dinner were made by Mrs. Kenneth Groat, chairman. Each member was presented with an individual corsage. Chairmen of the interest groups were presented with gifts as follows, Mrs. Douglas Smith, music; Mrs. G. Robert Anderson, sewing; Mrs. Hugh Elwyn, knitting.

Mrs. Van Wagenen then introduced Mrs. Groat, new president, who announced her committee chairmen: Mrs. Van Wagenen, finance; Mrs. George Schneider assisted by Mrs. Allen Tobias, hospitality; Mrs. C. C. Stickles assisted by Mrs. Myron Hopper, membership; Mrs. Roger Billings assisted by Mrs. Harold Cross, service; Mrs. Hugh Elwyn, entertainment; Mrs. Henry P. Eighmey assisted by Mrs. G. Robert Anderson, program; Mrs. W. I. Rose, assisted by Mrs. Joseph Falvey, publicity.

Mrs. Chester Bliss was appointed to investigate the possibilities of holding a fashion show next year.

Mrs. Groat announced an executive committee meeting for Thursday, June 10, 8 p. m., at the Y.W.C.A. She particularly urges not only all officers but also all chairmen and assistant chairmen to attend.

Milton Ehrenreich to Wed

New York, June 3 (Special)—Miss Irma Zaretzky, a teacher, of 20 Clinton street, New York, and Milton L. Ehrenreich, a student, formerly of Wawarsing, now at 1030 15th street, Miami Beach, Fla., secured a marriage license at the city clerk's office here this morning.

The couple said they would be married at the Park Manor in Brooklyn on June 7. The Rev. Mr. Rogoff will perform the ceremony.

The bride-elect, the daughter of Sol and Lena Cohen Zaretsky, was born in New York. Mr. Ehrenreich was born in Wawarsing, the son of William and Rose Esterson Ehrenreich.

Lyonsville Services

There will be preaching in the Lyonsville Church Sunday at 8 p. m. The Rev. David C. Weidner of Bloomington will be the preacher. The consistory of the church extends a cordial welcome to the community to attend.

American Overseas Aid Committee

The American Overseas Aid-United Nations Appeal for Children Committee in Ulster county held an organization meeting Wednesday evening at the Governor Clinton Hotel. Hugo Wessler, who has been appointed general chairman of the drive, outlined the campaign procedure. He has established headquarters in the Municipal Auditorium, where all contributions are to be sent. The drive will open officially on June 10 and close on June 24.

Honorary chairman, Senator Arthur H. Wicks, Mayor Oscar V. Newkirk and Judge John M. Cashin. General chairman, Hugo Wessler; vice chairman, Mrs. George Logan; treasurer, Edward H. Remmert; secretary, Mrs. Bernhardt S. Kramer. Co-chairmen, industry and professions; Manufacturers, Fred J. K. Ertel; wholesalers, Stanley Matthews; and Haskel Naigles; retailers, uptown, James L. tional Citizenship Program for the Department of Justice, and has held many other similar important positions. In recognition of his service and leadership, Dr. Russell has received many awards, among them the Butler Medal and a medal for distinguished achievement from the alumni of Horace Mann School. He has received a number of honorary degrees from American as well as European colleges and universities.

Dr. Russell was chairman of the American delegation to the World Federation of Educational Associations in 1925, and last year was elected first president of the World Organization of the Teaching Profession. (Incidentally, the New Paltz State Teachers' College is the first college to take out an institutional membership in this world organization.)

Edward L. Bernays, who will give the baccalaureate address, for many years has been one of America's outstanding business men, having been since 1919 engaged as public relations counsel to government, industries, corporations, and trade organizations. He served with the United States Commission on Public Information, was a member of the American delegation to the Paris Peace Conference in 1918-19, and was a member of President Hoover's Emergency Committee on Reemployment.

Bernays is widely known as a speaker and lecturer on the subject of public relations, and is the author of a number of books, including "Crystallizing Public Opinion," "Propaganda," "Speak Up for Democracy," "Take Your Place at the Peace Table," and "Public Relations, a Growing Profession."

Charges Misuse of Funds

New York, June 4 (AP)—A city investigator's report charges the New York Welfare Department with "misuse of relief funds." John M. Murtagh, commissioner of investigation, said yesterday that "many persons not in need" were on the city's relief rolls. After a probe of nearly seven months, Murtagh blamed "lack of proper and efficient supervision" for the "maldistribution of public funds." He said relief money often is given to "clients who are not thoroughly investigated."

Cherie Cornwell's Birthday

A first birthday party was given in honor of Cherie Cornwell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Mark Cornwell at their home, 2 Charlotte Place Tuesday. Guests were Garry Schmidt, Frank Simpson, Jr., Allan Henion, Linda Todaro and Cheryl Lee Fitzsimmons.

Decorations were in pink, blue and yellow. Mrs. Cornwell was assisted by the guest of honor's grandmothers, Mrs. Eugene Cornwell and Mrs. Ralph DeGraff.

D.A.R. Votes Prize For K.H.S. Student

Wiltwyck Chapter D.A.R. held its regular monthly meeting Thursday afternoon at the chapter house with Mrs. Maynard Mizel, regent, presiding. The chapter voted to present a worthy student of Kingston High School with a graduation prize.

Announcements were made of the Hudson Valley Council at Rhinebeck, June 10, and of the Flag Day celebration and party which will be held June 14 at the Chapter House. Mrs. Raymond R. Gross will present a play she has written entitled "A Handmade Flag." Flag Day will be guest day.

Mrs. Mizel announced that she would attend the Naturalization Court Monday and invited other members to attend.

Mrs. Charles Solomon was initiated into the society as a new member.

Letters of appreciation to the chapter were read by Mrs. W. Dean Hays from DeWitt Van Buren, by Mrs. Burdette R. Tuttle from the Indians and by Mrs. Walter T. Tremper from Kathleen Beardon, ward of Wiltwyck Chapter who recently was graduated from Tamassee School in South Carolina.

The committee chairmen read annual reports and annual reports of the officers were given and submitted to the regent. The historian's report gave the high points of the year's program and social events.

Two piano solos were played by Miss Dorothy DeCicco, Rimsky-Korsakov's "Flight of the Bumblebee," and Rachmaninoff's "Prelude in C Sharp Minor."

Hostesses for the day were the Mmes. Walter T. Tremper, Clair S. Sheaffer and Harry R. Rigby.

Garden Party Will Be Held Tomorrow At Academy Grounds

The Mothers Association of the Academy of St. Ursula will sponsor the annual garden party Saturday afternoon and evening at the academy grounds, Marygrove. The afternoon card party, always a feature of the day, will begin at 2 p. m. Players are asked to bring their own cards. A number of booths displaying wares for sale and games for the young people will be arranged out-of-doors, weather permitting. Members of the association have assisted in planning the affair.

Miss Crisman Receives Award For Original Stage Setting

Miss Veribelle Crisman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Virgil H. Crisman, 56 Elizabeth street, was awarded first prize for an original stage setting which she designed for Sabre Dance. The setting was used in the final assembly program at Boston University College of Arts and Letters.

Miss Crisman is spending the week-end on Cape Cod with her sorority, Kappa Omega, before returning to her home for the summer.

In the May Day exercises May 29 at the college, she did a solo number in the Dance of the Pilgrims.

miles east of Vancouver, was the largest along the Fraser during the current flood siege—800 feet. Water swept away the Canadian Pacific railway's double-tracked main line, a pump station and the stationkeeper's house. The town of Dewdney was isolated and about 6,000 acres of land submerged.

Aid for Weary Workers

On the lower Columbia, more troops and civilians hurried into danger areas to aid weary workers who have spent days strengthening scores of weakening dikes against the river's savage onslaught.

Five hundred army regulars and 250 navy men were helping hundreds of civilians in the 12,000-acre Clatskanie area, which U. S. engineers said was in "very critical condition." Only one of nine dikes in this Oregon area 50 miles from the river's mouth, was good, they said.

Across the river in Washington, the situation in the Longview-Kelso area 65 miles upriver was almost as bad. Nearly 5,000 men, including 100 fresh soldiers, labored on soggy dikes. Their schedule called for laying 100,000 sandbags each day.

Elsewhere along the lower river, the dikes were holding their own or the situation was improved over yesterday, the engineers reported. But the crest of the new flood—expected in the already hard-hit Portland area Monday—was beginning to swell both the Columbia and the Snake, the Columbia's principal tributary.

Veteran Columbia forecasters said they do not expect the new crest to equal the height of the old one.

Puerto Rico Illiteracy

Three hundred thousand children in Puerto Rico are growing up illiterate because of a lack of teachers and schools.

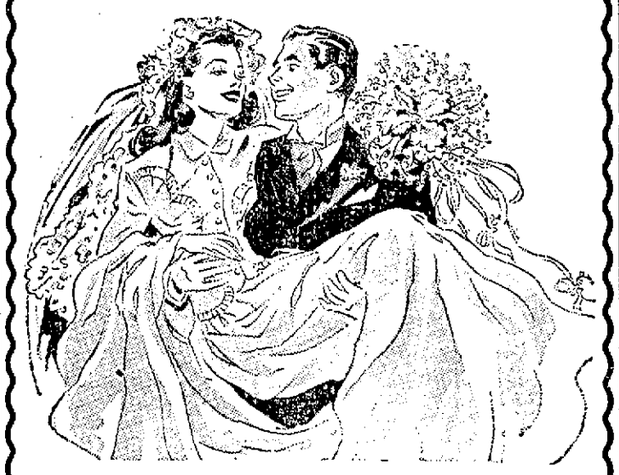
June Is Here Again!



. . . . . and as every June, many romances will culminate in marriage. The very fact that the marriage occurs is proof that the couple had the foresight to save for it. . . . . and that habit of saving they have instilled in themselves will help them save together for the things they desire such as a family, a home of their own, an automobile, etc. Take a tip from the June wedding bells you will hear as a reminder for you to keep your savings account growing.

Prizes to Be Given In Cancer Drive Contest on June 7

List Is Made Public of Those to Get Awards During Radio Show

The awarding of the "Pot of Prizes" in the Cancer Drive contest will take place Monday evening at 8 o'clock in WKNY studios. Those eligible for awards and the order in which the prizes will be given are:

Elbert L. Soper, 8 Park street, first who estimated the contributions in the drive as $6,979.65. The total was $7,005.08. Second was Bertha C. Burhans of 74 Dunneman avenue with $7,063. There were three ties for third award, Mrs. G. V. D. Hutton of 203 North Manor avenue, Miss Elaine McConnell of 83 Prospect street and Walter L. Foster of 58 Andrew street, all of whom estimated the drive would net $7,500.

Elbert L. Soper also came closest to estimating the total number of contributions, his estimate being 693. The actual number was 674. Mrs. Hedwig Belz of Bloomington was second with 800 and B. Riccardo of 42 North Front street was third with 850.

The winners have been notified by Oscar J. Lawatsch, treasurer of the Ulster County Cancer Drive.

Jackie, the goat, also will find a new owner that night. The winner will be determined on Monday evening and the winner will be called by phone and if possible during the program and asked to appear at the studio during the broadcast to claim the goat. The goat and his donor, Mrs. August Belz of Bloomington, will be present at the studio. Invitations have been sent to Mayor Oscar V. Newkirk, City Chairman J. Spotiswood Taylor of the Kingston Laboratory; Dr. George James, Ulster county commissioner of health; Mrs. James H. Betts, city commander, and Dr. Francis E. O'Connor, representing the Ulster County Medical Society. Invitations have been limited due to the capacity of the studio.

Roger Baer Schwartz with his Solovox will put on a musical program for the "Pot of Prizes" show. Eugene B. Carey, campaign chairman; James L. Rowe, contest chairman, and Oscar J. Lawatsch, drive treasurer, will attend and give brief reports on the drive.

A letter of congratulations has been sent to Elbert L. Soper, better known as "Bert" Soper of the Kingston police department, for his accurate predictions which make him eligible for the first two prizes.

Merchants who contributed to the "Pot of Prizes" are: Styles Jewelers, men's or women's extension bracelet; J. C. Penney Co., wool blanket; Kolls Electric, steak broiler; Wonderly Company, men's pajamas; Smart Shop, lady's handbag; A. W. Mollott, sport shirt; Cramer's, sheets and pillow cases; Herzog's Hardware, electric iron; Nugents, lady's hose; London's, gift certificate; O'Reilly's, fountain pen; J. R. Shults, Kemtone for one room; Jacobson's, wool sweater; Montgomery Ward, bed spread; Union Fern, beach chair; James L. Rowe, men's fishing boots; Flanagan's, Stetson hat; Up-To-Date Company, lady's handbag.

last night their fighters shot down two Egyptian bombers over Tel Aviv.

To the south, the Jewish communique said, Israeli artillery and planes continued throughout last night to shell and bomb an Egyptian column at Isdud, adding that "large blazes were observed in enemy concentrations."

The Egyptians said their troops, driving from the south in the direction of Tel Aviv, beat back a Jewish counterattack in a fierce night battle at Isdud. This town is on the Tel Aviv highway, just three miles short of the Israeli frontier.

The Egyptian Defense Ministry said last night the Egyptian navy sank one boat and shot up dockside buildings in bombarding Caesarea, a little port founded by Herod the Great. It did not list participating vessels.

Local Death Record

The body of P.F.C. Charles J. Brayton will arrive in Kingston on the West Shore train Saturday at 3:46 p. m., D.S.T. Burial will take place in the family plot in St. Mary's Cemetery with full military honors.

Funeral services for Samuel Garson Sutters of Bearsville who died at his home May 30 were held at the Lasher Funeral Home in Woodstock Wednesday at 2 p. m. The services were conducted by the Rev. Dr. Wesley McGaw, pastor of the Fort Washington Presbyterian Church, New York city, an old friend of the family. Two vocal selections, "In the Garden," and "Abide With Me," were rendered by Oliver Shultis of Bearsville. There were many beautiful floral tributes denoting the high esteem in which he was held. Bearers were Dayton Shultis, Joseph Forne, Roger Elting and Eugene Shultis. Burial was in the Woodstock Cemetery.

Mrs. Louisa Bauer Millonig, widow of Henry Millonig, died Thursday at her home, 97 Clinton avenue after a long illness. She is survived by a son, Henry of Kingston; five grandchildren, Amy Louise, Henry Frederick, Alice Carle, David Faichle and Ann Lynn; two sisters, Mrs. John Beyer and Mrs. Jesse DeGroff, New York city; and a brother, Charles Fowler, New York city. Funeral services, which will be private, will be held from the Kukuk Memorial Funeral Home, 167 Tremper avenue, Saturday at 2 p. m. Burial will be in Montrepose Cemetery. Friends may call at the funeral home today between the hours of 3 and 5 p. m., and from 7 to 9 p. m.

Better in Circus

Mt. Pleasant, Pa., June 4 (AP)—A sadder, sorer and considerably wiser lion today welcomed the peace and ease of captivity after discovering a free life in Pennsylvania foothills was too tough. The lion was one of four which escaped from their cages following a highway accident near here yesterday. The lion was part of Tom Pack's Circus, en route to Houston, Tex., from Harrisburg, Pa.

Theft Is Investigated

Police are investigating the theft of a case of electric shavers from a truck which arrived at Styles Express, 71 Ten Broeck avenue, about 8 p. m. Thursday. Chief of Police Raymond Van Buren said today. It has not been established whether the articles were taken after the truck arrived here or while it was en route, and the value of the missing articles has not been determined, he said.

Picnics Are Planned

The Y.M.C.A. picnic will be held all day Saturday at DeWitt Lake, W. L. Burnett, proprietor of the resort, has announced. Two picnics are scheduled for the lake on June 18 when the High Falls School will assemble there in addition to the Snagertics school picnic at 3:30 p. m.

Zoned Roads

The roads of the federal-aid highways system are chosen in such a way that if a zone 10 miles wide were marked off on each side of them, these zones would include the homes of 90 per cent of the population, according to the Encyclopedia Britannica.

Building Boom Has Several Years to Run

New York, June 4 (AP)—Although interest rates for mortgages on small homes probably will go up, no substantial rise in construction costs is expected this year, several speakers said yesterday at a state housing conference.

Mortgage bankers and financial experts told the meeting of 400 persons that housing costs are approaching stabilization and will not drop until the building boom collapses.

Imre De Vegh, an economist, said he thinks the boom still has several years to run.

The three-day conference, sponsored by the State Division of Housing, ends today. Chief purpose of the meetings is to find a way to increase production of housing and lower costs.

The conference heard several suggestions on how to cut costs. Among them were: Prefabricated houses, elimination of non-essentials in favor of sound construction of basic home features, and standardization of construction items with emphasis on pre-engineering.

Restrictive building codes and the reluctance of bankers to make mortgage loans on new types of construction were cited as handicaps to quantity production of prefabricated houses.

Tobin Urges Caution

New York, June 4 (AP)—The New York Times said today President Daniel T. Tobin had told members of his A.F.L. Teamsters Union that "they will be jeopardizing the life of their union if they press too hard for higher wages in coming months." The newspaper said Tobin expressed this view in a "strictly confidential" letter sent to all locals of the union, which claims 1,000,000 members. The 73-year-old labor leader was quoted as expressing fear that labor is "on the downward path in so far as advancement of unions and wages is concerned."

Cat Nurses Minks

Chicago, June 4 (AP)—Five baby minks, whose mother died last Monday, a day after they were born, have a foster-mother—a cat already busy caring for her three newly-born kittens. Joseph Zona of suburban Chicago Heights didn't know what to do for the five orphan minks after the mother mink died. Then he thought of the mother cat at the home of his neighbor, Mario Caruso. With Caruso's permission, Zona brought the mother cat and the three kittens, who also were born last Sunday, to his home and put the five minks in with them.

Would Cancel Reparations

Helsinki, Finland, June 4 (AP)—Premier Mauno Pekkala says Russia is going to cancel half of Finland's remaining reparations debt, about 570,000,000 Pekkala said a formal note from Moscow last night confirmed this. Three Finnish ministers had asked a reduction. The Finnish war reparations bill originally was $300,000,000 about $160,000,000 has been paid.

Now that this portable television receiver is being tested, there soon will be nothing to stop you from taking it to the beach, as this couple did. Financial and Commercial

New York, June 4 (AP)—The stock market steadied today after a slow morning decline.

Losses were widespread but small and selling was never very aggressive.

Volume, which has contracted throughout the week, slackened still further.

Issues marked down, mostly fractionally, included Bethlehem Steel, General Motors, Montgomery Ward, J. I. Case, Caterpillar Tractor, Pepsi-Cola, Kennecott Copper, American Woolen, Southern Pacific, Sinclair Oil, Gulf Oil, and U.S. Gypsum.

A handful managed to improve a trifle, among them Youngstown Sheet, U.S. Rubber, Lockheed, Westinghouse, and Douglas Aircraft.

In the curb Cities Service, a recent favorite, backed down a bit along with Fairchild Camera, United Shoe Machinery and Midvale. Todd Shipyards moved up more than 2 points.

In the bond market railroad issues wobbled lower. U.S. Government bonds in the over-the-counter market again held firm, as large-scale selling, which was expected to result from the increased reserve requirements for New York and Chicago banks, failed to materialize.

Dog's Bell Was Cause

Des Moines, Ia., June 4 (AP)—It wasn't the dog house but the dog's bell that plagued the married life of George C. Nelson. Nelson, seeking a divorce in District Court, yesterday testified his wife removed a bell he had attached to his dog's collar and fastened it on the back door. "I wanted to keep track of the dog out in the corn fields," Nelson said. "But she wanted the bell to check on my leaving and returning to the house." Mrs. Nelson is asking that the divorce action be dismissed.

Special Train for Shriners' Convention

Kingston Shriners will participate in the five-day 74th annual convention of the national organization at Atlantic City. On Sunday morning at 8:15 a special West Shore train will stop at Kingston to pick up the Kingston Shrine contingent.

The special train will leave Albany at 6:30 and stops also will be made at Catskill and Highland.

Cyprus Temple, with which the Shrine Club of Kingston is affiliated, will be represented in two parades by three uniformed units, the Arab Patrol, the Cyprus Temple Band and the directors. The parades, features of the convention, will be held Tuesday morning and Wednesday night.

Arrangements are in charge of Potentate Edmond W. Beyer of Schenectady.

Forest Fires Rage

Foronton, Ont., June 4 (AP)—Two roaring forest fires merged last night in the Mississagi and Chapleau areas of northern Ontario and are burning on a 72-mile front. The fire, regarded by many as the biggest and most expensive in Ontario's history, is traveling toward rich timberlands on the Bark Lake area. Smoke and flame are sweeping over 150,000 acres of green timber north of Blind river, Algoma district lumbering town midway between Sault Ste. Marie and Sudbury. The big fire is one of some 15 which cover about 130,000 acres, or more than 200 square miles of the region. Millions of dollars of damage already have been done, forest officials said.

More Hospital Room

Albany, N. Y., June 4 (AP)—The state went a long way last year toward easing overcrowded conditions and the personnel shortage in mental institutions, Dr. Frederick MacCurdy says. The mental hygiene commissioner noted yesterday that the number of patients in New York's 27 institutions had increased to a record 108,000. But improvements were made, he said. MacCurdy reported most institutions were "very close" to their quotas in trained personnel during the 1947-48 fiscal year, which ended March 31. Six new building units, with a capacity of 9,000 patients, were put into use.

Gets Her Degree

Omaha, June 4 (AP)—Mrs. Robert A. Jeffrey, Jr., 25, became a doctor of medicine only a few minutes after she gave birth to a nine-pound 14-ounce daughter. Her husband, who received his medical degree last year, stood in for Mrs. Jeffrey at Creighton University commencement exercises yesterday after she went to the hospital. Mrs. Jeffrey was scheduled to receive her M.D. last year with her husband, but dropped out of school for the arrival of Robert A. Jeffrey, 3rd in November, 1946. This year she decided to try again for the medical degree. She completed final examinations and attended baccalaureate services before going to the hospital.

Shipler Says Facts

who for eight months had told me that he would like to be present on this occasion, suddenly made some surprising discoveries and changed his mind.

"He found, he said, that 'The Churchman is not, as I had orginally understood, the official organ of the Episcopal Church, devoting itself exclusively to religious matters. Its editorials extend far into the realm of politics and international affairs.'"

Dr. Shipler, noting that the magazine has been published "only since 1804," said it never has been an official publication and always has carried in its masthead the phrase "An Independent Journal." He said the Episcopal Church has no official national journal except a missionary monthly.

"Some government intelligence agency," Dr. Shipler said, "did an amazing job in unearthing these secrets and certainly earned the taxpayers' money."

A "Christian salute" and "warmest welcome" citation was presented at the dinner to the new state Israel.

The citation was accepted by Rabbi Israel Goldstein, former president of the Zionist Organization of America. Aubrey S. Eban, Israel's representative at the United Nations, had turned down an invitation to attend following Marshall's refusal of the annual award.

The Rev. Dr. Wendell Phillips, Episcopal clergyman, of Rye, N. Y., who presided at the dinner, said the decision to make an award to Marshall was made by a committee of 1,000 and not by the staff of the Churchman.

Igloo, constant companion of Admiral Byrd, was the only dog that ever traveled to both of the earth's poles.

Booming Ulster As Very Desirable Sector of State

Folders explaining and illustrating why Ulster county is a good place to visit, spend a vacation or locate an industry, are reaching all parts of the United States and Canada through the efforts of the Ulster County Publicity Committee of the Board of Supervisors. This includes the Kingston folder prepared by the Kingston Chamber of Commerce. There are now 26 organized groups in the Ulster-Greene area actively engaged in promoting business.

Most of the organized community groups have prepared attractive folders. A complete supply of available folders is maintained at the Kingston Chamber of Commerce office in the Governor Clinton Hotel. General distribution is handled by the Supervisors' Publicity Committee but single copies are available at the Chamber office on request. The complete set of folders are sent regularly to 136 reliable travel agencies, throughout the country and thousands of individuals.

The Kingston Chamber of Commerce believes that visitors or vacationists coming into any part of the Ulster-Greene area helps business and should be encouraged. According to recent surveys nearly 70 per cent of all retail and wholesale business, done within the City of Kingston comes from persons living outside the boundaries of the city. Every visitor increases business.

Mid-Hudson Traffic Club To Dine in City Wednesday

J. R. Krumech, traffic manager of the American Car and Foundry Co., New York city, will be the guest speaker at the regular meeting of the Mid-Hudson Traffic Club next Wednesday, June 9, at the Roseland Restaurant, 440 Washington avenue at 7:30 p. m.

Mr. Krumech was born in New York city and took his first job in transportation with the Pennsylvania Railroad in 1916. Four years later he went with the Milwaukee Railroad in New York as freight rate clerk.

A former regional vice-president for the Associated Traffic Clubs of America and presently the executive vice-president, Mr. Krumech was appointed to his present post as traffic manager of the New York concern in 1930.

In addition to other duties he has been closely connected with the Traffic Club of New York as second vice-president in 1940, member of the board of governors in 1942 to 1944, first vice-president in 1945, and president in 1946.

Another feature of the program will be a 15-minute movie on material handling called "Muscle Mike," filmed by the Lehigh Warehouse Transportation Co., of Newark, N. J.

Syphilis Cases Drop 40 Per Cent in Year

Albany, N. Y., June 4 (AP)—Infectious syphilis cases in New York state dropped 40 per cent last year from the all-time high in 1946 but remained at twice the pre-war level.

State Health Commissioner Herman E. Hilleboe said today 1,875 cases were reported last year, against 3,063 in 1946.

He credited the decline to prompt investigation of discovered cases and to free penicillin provided by the Health Department to doctors for treatments.

Hilleboe said there was evidence that persons with early syphilis and unaware of it outnumbered reported cases four to one.

"Spread by intimate contact, syphilis may even be passed from one person to another by kissing," the state's health chief said. "People who are not aware of their infections with venereal disease are, in many instances, passing it on to others and at the same time suffering permanent damage to their own health."

Social Security Aid

Social Security information and advice will be available free of charge tonight at the State of New York National Bank, 301 Wall street, from 6:45 to 8 o'clock. This special service will be given the first Friday of each month for the convenience of Ulster county residents who cannot visit the field office during the day.

Sweaters Are $1.79

The sale price of men's all wool sleeveless sweaters, advertised last night by Dee Dee Knitwear, 105 Prince street, should have been $1.79 instead of 79 cents.

She'll Stay

It looked for a time as though Georgette Bertaud, who came from France to marry Pfc. Graydon Morfitt of Houston, Tex., wouldn't be able to stay in America. Morfitt didn't have $500 needed to get her off Ellis Island. But a stranger, James Mont, New York furniture designer, gave Morfitt the money.

K.H.S. Trips Cardinal Farley, 6-5; Seeks DUSO Pennant Today

Clark Mains Goes Against Middie Tossers

Clark Mains will be on the mound today in Middletown when Kingston High seeks to clinch its 14th DUSO baseball pennant in 22 years.

Undefeated in DUSO competition and author of three no-hitters, including a perfect 7-inning stint against Newburgh Free Academy, Mains already is attracting the attention of big league scouts.

New York Yankee and Brooklyn Dodger scouts were expected to look him over today.

Danny Brown survived a shaky finish to pitch Kingston High School to a 6 to 5 squeaker over Cardinal Farley Prep in Dutchess county yesterday.

Brown was working on a three-hit, 6-0 shutout when Farley took advantage of a disputed umpire's decision in the sixth to score four runs. They picked up a fifth marker in the seventh and had the tying run on base when Brown got the third out.

The victory was Kingston's second straight over Cardinal Farley this season and their eighth in 11 starts.

Maroons Outhit

Cardinal Farley outhit the Maroons, 8-5, with Lombardi, shortstop poling three singles in four trips. Cosgrove of Farley was credited with a triple on the play on which the dispute occurred.

The five Kingston hits were credited to Bonnie Scheffel, Mike Rienzo, Bob Ghear, Charlie Grunenwald and Danny Brown.

Softball Scores

The Veterans of Foreign Wars pounded out a 12 to 6 victory over Scranton Lace in the City Softball League yesterday behind the tight pitching of Schmitz.

The V.F.W. hurler permitted only two hits but errors contributed to the total. The V.F.W. racked up 13 safeties off Brown.

Schmitz aided his own cause with a home run, while Whittaker clouted one for Scranton Lace.

American Horse 100-7 in Derby

Epsom, England, June 4 (AP)—American chances of a Derby win at Epsom tomorrow rose steadily as Windy Showers and Slow Footing were predicted for the 169th running of the British flat racing classic.

The chief American hope in the 33-horse event, New York Banker William Woodward's Black Tarquin, ikes the going heavy and should have an edge on tough opposition if the bad weather prevails.

Bookmakers at the final Derby callover tonight are expected to cut the current odds of 100-7 against Black Tarquin.

The other American-bred colt, Senator 2nd, is in peak shape for the mile and a half test for three-year-olds. He has a mile and a quarter win under his belt this season.

Black Tarquin is one of eight probable starters to win a race this season over the full Derby distance. Two weeks ago he took the Derby trial stakes at Lingfield Park.

The weatherman's foibles threatened to upset the Derby form completely. The current favorites are the Maharaja of Baroda's unbeaten My Babu at 4 to 1 and the Cobbler at 5 to 1. The Cobbler will be ridden by the leading English jockey, Gordon Richards.

The course was muddy and slick last night and bookmakers reported a public tendency to favor outsiders. One London bookmaker said bettors are putting their piggy banks on everything from 33 to 200 to 1.

Demaret's 65 Tops Albuquerque Open

Albuquerque, N. M., June 4 (AP)—There was talk of renaming the University of New Mexico golf course today.

More ardent fans went so far as to suggest it might be named for Jimmy Demaret, the sweet swinging Texan who registers from Ojai, Calif.

And as the $10,000 Albuquerque Open headed into its second round of medal play, Jimmy certainly was acting pretty much as if he owned the 6,813-yard public links layout.

Yesterday, for example, he took it apart for a brilliant 65—seven strokes under par and one fewer than his nearest competitor in a 72-man field of pros and amateurs.

There was a lot of fine precision golf among the runners-up. George Schneiter of Ogden, Utah, came in with a flashy 66. Stout Clayton Heafner of Charlotte, N. C., fashioned a 67. Another blow back were Stewart (Skip) Alexander, Lexington, N. C., and E. J. (Dutch) Harrison of Little Rock, Ark., with 68's.

Four others posted 69s, including Lloyd Mangrum of Chicago, who won last year's tournament here. A dozen more players bettered par.

Major League Roundup

By The Associated Press

By BEN PHLEGAR, Associated Press Sports Writer

The Cincinnati Reds have come up with a lot of bad news for the seven other National League clubs. Ewell Blackwell's back in form.

The stringbean righthander, sidelined for a month with a sore shoulder, last night won his first game since April 28. He held the slugging New York Giants to two hits and a pair of runs in seven innings. Nine Giants went down on strikes, although Mickey Livingston blasted a bases-empty home run for the New Yorkers in the fifth.

Blackwell, who walked six, retired after the seventh and the Reds quelled a ninth inning rally to win, 6-4. Blackwell retired after he complained he was having difficulty breathing as the result of a heavy head cold.

Sauer Hits 14th

Hank Sauer hit his 14th home run with nobody on in the seventh for the Reds.

The victory moved Cincinnati into sixth place in the National League, only four and a half games back of the leading Giants.

The loss cut the Giants' first place margin to a half-game over the St. Louis Cardinals, who broke a six-game losing streak. The Red Birds tripped Brooklyn, 4 to 1, in Sportsmans Park behind the brilliant four-hit pitching of Harry "The Cat" Brecheen.

The Pittsburgh Pirates pulled to within a game of the top by outlasting Boston, 5 to 3. The Braves picked up a run in the eighth, scored another and had the bases loaded with none out in the ninth when Elmer Singleton came to Kirby Higbe's rescue. The former Boston righthander shut off the hitting immediately, although a final tally came across on a force play.

Ashburn Sizzles

Young Richie Ashburn, whose powerful spring hitting boosted him from the Class A Eastern League to the Philadelphia Phils, connected safely in his 20th consecutive game as the Phils downed Chicago, 4 to 3. Ashburn, the league's fourth hitter, smashed two singles and a double.

In the American League, Detroit spurted for four runs in the 11th inning to defeat New York 6 to 2 and Boston turned back St. Louis, 3 to 2. Cleveland at Washington and Chicago at Philadelphia were rained out.

Hal Newhouser held the Yanks to six hits in winning his fourth straight game. Hoot Evers and Vic Wertz homered for Detroit, while Joe DiMaggio accounted for both New York tallies with a single and a long fly.

Jack Kramer tumbled his former St. Louis mates out of first division with his eight hitter. Whitey Platt, rookie Brownie left fielder, homered with one aboard for the St. Louis runs in the seventh inning.

First Physicist

Thales, one of the seven wise men of Greece, who discovered electricity 2500 years ago, was the first physicist.

Boulevard Gulf Gains First Win

City League batters are seeing plenty of that stuff that Connie Mack always describes as "70 per cent of the game." Meaning pitching, of course, which is being handed out in large doses these days.

And Jackie Watzka, the Frank's Sport Shop fireballer, seems to inspire classic performances from his pitching contemporaries.

In yesterday's twi circuit duel, for instance, Watzka dropped a tough 1-0 decision to Andy "Hooper" Tomson of Boulevard Gulf Gas. It was Watzka's second loss although he has permitted only five hits in two starts.

Each Yield Three Hits

Watzka and Tomson, pitching Boulevard to its first league victory, each permitted three hits but Tomson was given a run in the first inning and that's the tally they paid off on.

One of seven walks issued by the East Kingston flinger resulted in the lone marker in the first. George Glaser led off with a free ticket, his brother, Bill, sacrificed and Red Gorsline rammed a single to left for a 1-0 score and that's where it stayed.

Several fielding gems were turned in. Among them were George Glaser's back-handed stop of a grounder back of second in the sixth and Tomson's great play on a foul bunt in the seventh.

Top fielding gem of the year was accorded Mike Forte, Boulevard outfielder, in the sixth. With Ralph Tiano on second and no outs, Bill Olen lashed a sinking liner to centerfield. Forte raced in and grabbed the ball off his shoetops and fired the ball to second to double off Tiano. This was Tomson's neck saver.

Fred Schryver collected two of the three hits yielded by Watzka—both solid line drive singles.

Tomson was in several tight spots but always came up with the third out.

Billy Windburn and Andy Radtke are the probable pitchers for the Jones Dairy-Stauble Bakery clash this evening.

Tony Zale Quietly Confident He Can Solve Graziano Style

New York, June 4 (AP)—Tony Zale is a quiet man with one consuming ambition—to regain the middleweight crown he lost to Rocky Graziano last July.

The 34-year-old veteran girds himself for a third meeting with Graziano at Newark Wednesday night with a cold efficiency that belies his 12 to 5 underdog rating.

Training never is fun for a fighter after the first few bouts. At 34 it becomes a chore that must be done. That's how Tony regards his strenuous eight-week grind.

"The only way to do a thing is to do it right," said Zale as though he were reading a framed motto on the kitchen wall. It's a part of his philosophy of life.

There is pride in the heart of this hollow-cheeked slugger who long ago graduated from the back-breaking chores of "cinder snapping" in the Gary, Ind. steel mills.

He Wins or Else

This is the way he looks at himself and his future.

"If I can't be on top," he said, "I don't want to be in this business. I don't know yet what I might do if I lose. But I don't expect to lose.

"I think I learned enough about him (Rocky) in our two fights. One time I boxed him and the other I slugged with him. Now I think I know what to do."

Over in the Graziano camp they believe Zale will come out with a rush at the first bell. They think he'll shoot the works for an early win. Their idea is that his legs won't be able to stand the strain of a prolonged battle.

Graziano is being prepared to meet that early rush with a smashing attack of his own.

Katrine Club Starts Series Of Semi-Weekly Trapshoots

Four marksmen captured individual honors in the first of a series of Good Fellowship Shoots sponsored by the Lake Katrine Rod and Gun Club last night at its grounds in Lake Katrine.

Chet Joy and Benny Benoit each broke 23 out of 25 targets in the Class B handicap event, while Ray Caunitz was tops in the D class with 22.

In the Class B trap handicap, Ross Coles and Frank Chaffee tied for first with 24.

The series of shoots were planned by the Lake Katrine club to spur interest among its membership in the art of skeet and trap shooting. They will be held every Sunday at 2 p. m. and every Thursday at 6:30 p. m.

Use Handicap System

The Shougram system of classification will be used in order to give every contestant an equal chance at the prize list regardless of their club rating. The shoots will be run virtually at cost and beginners will be given free instructions by expert marksmen. Refreshments will be sold on the grounds.

Yesterday's results:

Class B Handicap Skeets—Tie for first place between Chet Joy and Benny Benoit, 23 targets.

Class D Handicap Skeets—Ray Caunitz 22; Jack Crosby 19.

Class B Trap Handicap—Ross Coles and Frank Chaffee 24; Tom Goodman 23, Ray Caunitz 20, Ben Benoit 20.

Phillies Sign SchoolboyPhenom

Thomaston, Ga., June 4 (AP)—Another Georgia peach has started up the long trail that leads to baseball fame and fortune.

Hugh Frank Radcliffe, 19-year-old prep school strikeout king and holder of the world's record for the most strikeouts in a single nine-inning game, was signed up yesterday by the Philadelphia Phillies for their Wilmington, Del., club in the Class B Inter-State League.

A reliable source said the National Leaguers paid the R. E. Lee High school pitching star $40,000 to sign the contract.

He set a world's record early this spring by striking out 28 men in one game. His record for the season is nine triumphs and no defeats. He has struck out 185 batters in 72 2/3 innings and has allowed only 16 hits and three earned runs.

Colonials Name Muller To Face Paterson Sox

Warren Muller, a brilliant southpaw pitcher who was kingpin in the Eastern League in 1944, will make his seasonal debut for the Kingston Colonials against Charley Jamieson's Paterson Red Sox at municipal stadium Saturday at 8:15 p. m.

Manager Joe Hoffman said today that the big southpaw would probably be held exclusively for Saturday night assignments. After the Paterson clash, Muller is slated to face the New York Cubans, 1947 Negro National League champions on Saturday, June 12.

Red Sox Tough

Victorious over the strong Jersey City Otto Macks, 8 to 2, in their inaugural, the Colonials will bid for their second victory against one of the most highly regarded independent clubs in the metropolitan area.

Jamieson, former Cleveland Indian star, organized the Paterson Red Sox and until four years ago played first base and managed the club but advancing years have forced him to the sidelines. His brother Walt takes over when Chuck is not on hand.

The Red Sox have been active for more than a decade and are considered among the best of the white teams. They have a quartet of hurlers headed by 43-year-old Jackie Kelman, who has been with the team since 1934. He won 7 games last season, mostly in relief roles.

Have Good Pitching

Phil Miller, bellwether of the Paterson staff, is going along in great style. Miller was a pitcher on the service team which included Ted Williams of the Boston Red Sox and other major leaguers. Other pitchers are George Stix, hometown sensation and John Junta.

The Colonials' batting against Sunny Hamlin, ace Otto Mack southpaw, left little to be desired in Manager Joe Hoffman's book. The locals crashed three triples and a homer and figure to be much tougher against right-handed flinging.

"We should be pretty rough on right handed pitching," Hoffman said. "The club certainly showed power against Hamlin and with four or five lefthanders swinging we should get our share of base hits against the righties."

Hoffman said he had not decided on a starting lineup for Saturday's game aside from the battery of Muller and Corrigan.

"Muller is a great hurler," the skipper said, "and I'm sure the Kingston fans are going to like him."

FIGHTS LAST NIGHT

(By The Associated Press)

Brooklyn (Fort Hamilton)—Frankie Abrams, 146, Detroit, outpointed Roman Alvarez, 144½, New York, 10.

Minneapolis — Jackie Graves, 126½, Austin, Minn., outpointed Harold Dade, 123½, Chicago, 10.

Worcester, Mass.—George Bradford Smith, 138, Haverstraw, N. Y., awarded T.K.O. over Don Williams, 142, Worcester, 9. (Williams disqualified when his manager jumped into ring).

Local Keglers Fail In Landgraf Sweeps

Johnny Ferraro and Charlie Tiano shot 765 and 755 respectively in the 4-game $2000 Landgraf Individual Sweepstakes in New York city last night but failed to make the standing board. Ferraro had high single of 216, Tiano 205.

Milne Car Upsets

At 11:20 o'clock Thursday night while William Allen Milne, of Somers, N. Y., employed by the Coast Guard at the Saugerties light, was driving south on Route 28 his car left the road near the Franko Geidman property and overturned in the ditch. He told State Trooper Ray Dunn and Constable Theron Townsend that he had been blinded by headlights, causing him to loose control of his car and swerve to the left. The car was damaged but Milne was uninjured.

Harper Chosen New Nocando Head at Banquet Thursday

Ralph D. Harper, vice-president, was unanimously elected to the post of president of the Nocando League during the annual post-season banquet Thursday night at Les Lilas in Mt. Marion. Last night's affair marked the end of the long swing of the turkey circuit. The new president succeeds Robert Baylor.

Other officers elected from the floor included Joe Magnino, vice-president; Ken Van Etten, re-elected secretary; and Stan Colvin, reelected treasurer.

John Frederick, past president, was named as delegate to the Kingston Bowling Association, and Orville Carney was elected alternate delegate.

Trodler Gets Medal

Gil Sampson, president-elect of the Kingston Bowling Association, who was pinch-hitting for Ray Cord, secretary, highlighted the brief speaking program after awarding the American Bowling Congress medal to Paul Trodler who blasted a 258 game during the regulation Nocando season.

Later, Sampson, who said he would take office effective August 1, reiterated President Howard "Hod" Spaulding's K.B.A. policy that no member of the board could miss more than one meeting unless for a very valid reason. "If this should happen to any of the board members," Sampson declared, "I promise the Nocando League that a member of that circuit will be named to the board."

President Spaulding, who has been named as an honorary member of the Nocando circuit, was high in the praise of the Thursday night loop. "Of all the bowling banquets I have ever attended," Spaulding said, "I have never enjoyed myself more than at these Nocando affairs."

The retiring president went on to add, "If we could run bowling in Kingston as it is run in the Nocando League, we could call ourselves a success."

Another speaker was Addison Jones, former president of the Kingston Bowling Association, who was recently named director on the board of the New York State Bowling Association.

Turck Represents Mayor

Alderman-at-Large Charles J. Turck, representing Mayor Oscar V. Newkirk, who is attending a housing conference at the Pennsylvania Hotel in New York city, also spoke. Mr. Turck, a member of the Nocando League, spoke briefly and said he hoped to continue in the loop for many years to come.

After reading a telegram from Peter Keresman, Ralph Shultis, toastmaster, introduced John MacLellan, "bowling voice" of WKNY. Keresman's telegram from Denver, Colo., voiced regret that he could not attend the annual banquet.

Trophies Awarded

After a brief treasurer's report by Stan Colvin, William Mohr and Secretary Ken Van Etten awarded the various trophies. President Baylor received a trophy for his presidency during the past year and another was awarded to John Frederick for his presidency in the 1942-1943 season.

Other awards included a Styles' Jeweler trophy to Ed Menzel for low average bowler, Keresman Trophy to William Mohr who was cited as doing the most for the league; and the Ralph Shultis trophy to Al Katz, a league bowler who has never won a trophy. A pen and pencil set was presented to Treasurer Colvin. The final award was presented by President Baylor to Ralph Shultis for outstanding sportsmanship. This was given by the Leader Co.

Sponsors in this year's league were Schryver Lumber Co., Scholl's Market, Rudolph Plumbers, Shultis Radios, Howe's Office Supplies, Forst Packing Co., Chez Emile and Frederick's Coal. The sponsors donated 23 of the 36 trophies awarded last night.

Other prizes:

First Half Winners

First place team, Frederick's Coal; individual high average, F. Norman, 184.26; individual high single, Paul Trodler, 258; individual high single, Al Kurdt, 617; individual high single, bottom half of league, Gus Steigerwald, 240; team high single game, Chez Emile, 967; team high three games, Chez Emile, 2646.

Second Half Winners

First place team, Scholl's Market; individual high average, Pete Slover, 179.17; individual high single game, Al Kurdt, 254; individual high three games, John Frederick 623; individual high single, bottom half of league, Don Koeppen, 234; team high single game, Forst Packing Co., 940; team high three game, Scholl's Market, 2609.

U. S. Ambassador Warns Chinese on Uprisings

Nanking, June 4 (AP) — The United States warned China today that Chinese student demonstrations against American policy in Japan is creating an increasingly dangerous situation.

(Chinese government officials have charged Communist agitators with stirring up these demonstrations, which frequently have turned into riotous disorders).

Ambassador J. Leighton Stuart said the agitation "is seriously damaging the traditional cordiality between the United States and China and, if it continues, it may have unfortunate results."

He warned the students:

"Unless China and the United States can approach each other with mutual trust and confidence, peace and welfare are endangered."

As for Japan, he bluntly pointed out that "no one can expect the taxpayers of America to continue indefinitely paying Japanese bills." He added that Japan's economic life must be restored.

The ambassador defied "anyone to produce a single shred of evidence that any part of Japanese military power is being restored."

Anne Flies to Zurich

Copenhagen, Denmark, June 4 (AP)—Princess Anne of Bourbon-Parma flew off to Zurich today, on her way to get married to ex-King Mihai of Romania. "Now I am flying off to Switzerland to meet Michael," she told reporters as she entered the plane. "We are going to get married—where and when you can read about in the papers. I believe I shall get all the details as soon as I see Michael in Geneva. Some day they are going to be married in Athens, some say tomorrow, some say next week.

Kingston Man Is New Consignor at Craftsmen Guild

Woodstock, June 4—One of Kingston's busy executives will be busier than ever if predictions heard this week at the Woodstock Guild of Craftsmen come true. It all began when Henry C. Page, 105 Pearl street, Kingston, an officer of the Kingston Transportation Co., received some copper from a friend in Morenci, Ariz.

Page, like many another, had had some instruction in woodworking during his school years in his home town of Worcester, Mass., and later in the evening woodworking class at the Kingston High School. But really, not until the copper arrived to heckle him, did his real hobby begin.

A new and interesting wood and copper snack tray designed and made by Page is now being exhibited at the Woodstock Guild of Craftsmen as the work of a new consignor. Upon questioning, it was learned that his trays are very much in demand. He is also working on another type which will soon be displayed at the Guild and will be known as the "Dunking Tray."

Other consignors having their work in the Guild for the first time and for which a demand has already been created include Mary O'Hara, High Falls; Emily Schaffert, New Paltz; Ella Hoffman, Mount Tremper; and Sophie Hansen, High Woods. Fritzie Striebel and Gina Hubbell have a new and fascinating type of potholder which they design and make.

Two craftsmen whose success is described by Guild officials as unusual are Mrs. Margaret Gruver, of Hurley, and Mrs. Eleanor McCaffery, of Kingston. Mrs. Gruver has several wide silver bracelets with wire overlay, narrow filed bracelets, buttons and pins on display. These pieces have been described as of "the most expert workmanship and stunning design." Mrs. McCaffery's hand-hammered and decorated aluminum trays are purchased almost as quickly as she can turn them out.

Seldom does one have an opportunity to see such a fine exhibit of the crafts as may now be enjoyed and purchased at the Woodstock Guild of Craftsmen where the shop is open daily, Monday through Saturday, from 10 a. m. to 5:30 p. m.

Must Post $25,000 Bond

Tucson, Ariz., June 4 (AP)—William Henry Grimditch, Jr., must post $25,000 bond before taking his two children from Arizona to his home near Philadelphia, Judge J. Mercer Johnson went even further in a ruling yesterday and specified that Jay Gould heiress Gioia Grimditch must also post the same bond before leaving the state with the children on any occasion. Marriage of the 24-year-old Gioia Grimditch, 25, was ordered dissolved after a sensational divorce trial here in February during which Grimditch charged his wife with moral misconduct.

PROCLAMATION

THE PEOPLE OF THE STATE OF NEW YORK, BY THE GRACE OF GOD FREE AND INDEPENDENT.
To the Sheriff of the County of Ulster, Greetings:
Whereas, a Term of the County Court of the County of Ulster is to be held at the Court House, in the City of Kingston, N. Y. on the 7th day of June 1948. You are hereby Commanded to summon the several persons who shall have been drawn in said County of Ulster pursuant to law to serve as Grand Jurors and Trial Jurors at said County Court, to appear thereat. You are Commanded to bring before the said Court all prisoners then being in the Jail of said County, together with all process and proceedings in any way concerning them in your hands as such Sheriff. You are Commanded to make Proclamation, in the manner prescribed by Section 222-c of the Code of Criminal Procedure, notifying all persons bound to appear at the said Court by recognizance or otherwise, to appear thereat, and requiring all Justices of the Peace, Coroners, and other officers who have taken any recognizance for the appearance of any persons at such Court, or who shall have taken any inquisition, or the examination of any prisoner or witness, to return such recognizances, inquisitions and examinations to the said Court at the opening thereof, on the first day of its sitting.
Witness, Hon. John M. Cashin, County Judge of Ulster County, at the Court House in the City of Kingston, this 30th day of April, 1948.
LOUIS G. BRUHN
District Attorney

In pursuance to the above precept, I hereby make proclamation that a term of the County Court of Ulster County and Jail Delivery will be held at the Court House in Kingston, in and for the County of Ulster, on the 7th day of June at 2:00 o'clock in the afternoon of that day; and all persons who will prosecute against persons confined in the jail of said County are required to be then and there present, to proceed as may be just; and all persons bound to appear at the said court, by recognizance or otherwise, are required to appear thereat; and all Justices of the Peace, Coroners or other officers who may have taken any recognizance for the appearance of any person at the said court, or who may have taken any inquisition, or the examination of any prisoner or witness, are required to return such recognizance, inquisition and examination, to the said court, at the opening thereof, and on the first day of the sitting thereof, and to be then and there present with their rolls and records, indictments and remembrances, and those things which to their offices pertain.
Dated City of Kingston, April 30, 1948.

STATE OF NEW YORK
DEPARTMENT OF STATE
SALE OF LAND
Pursuant to a resolution of the Board of Commissioners of the Land Office adopted at a meeting held on the 4th day of May, 1948 and by virtue of power vested in me by law, I shall offer for sale at public auction at the main entrance of the Ulster County Court House, in the City of Kingston, County of Ulster, New York on Tuesday June 22, 1948 at 2 o'clock E.D.S.T. in the afternoon of that day, or such later dates and times to which the sale may be adjourned, all the right, title and interest of the State of New York in and to the following described lands:
All that tract or parcel of land situate in the Village of Wallkill, County of Ulster, State of New York, conveyed by Philip Willig and Mary Willig, his wife, to Michael Simms, by deed dated March 8, 1909, recorded in the office of the Clerk of the County of Ulster on March 13, 1909, in Liber 417 of Deeds at page 301, and therein described as follows:
BEGINNING at a point on Beaches Lane, now the property of the Ulster Hat Company; thence 50 feet to the lands of Mrs. Mentz; thence along the lands of Mrs. Mentz 110 feet to the lands of Susan E. Roberson, now owned by Mr. Smith; thence along the lands of the said Mr. Smith 96 feet to an unopened street called Elm street; and thence along Elm street 96 feet to the point or place of beginning.
ALSO: All that tract or parcel of land situate in the Village of Wallkill, Town of Shawangunk, County of Ulster, State of New York, described as follows:
Lot number 9, 10 and 11 facing Elm street as shown on map drawn for David Robertson in year 1884, now on record in the County Clerk's office at Kingston. These lots being 50 feet frontage each on Elm street by 100 feet deep.
Being the same premises conveyed by Charles A. Smith and Pearl V. Smith, his wife, to Michael Simms by deed dated July 29, 1910, recorded in the office of the Clerk of the County of Ulster on November 7, 1910, in Liber 427 of Deeds at page 562.
The State's title was acquired through escheat on the death of Michael Simms on April 26, 1913. The value of the State's interest has been appraised at one thousand dollars.
The terms of the sale require the purchaser to pay the full amount of the purchase price in cash or by certified check at the time and place of sale. The property will be sold for not less than the appraised value.
Letters-patent will issue on production of a receipt showing payment in full and the patent fee of $5.00 will be charged.
Dated: May 12, 1948.

Secretary of State

Lifelines

C. R. DOUGLAS

Our tomorrows, most of us realize, largely patterned by science, will have much more to offer than the most memorable of our yesterdays, but we know too, that the slower moving past held values which never will be regained.

Most of us who remember back even two decades ago, recall that progress was generally accepted slowly and often with borrowings from a golden age which went along into the new century from a period pre-dating the Gay Nineties.

A majestic vestige of this colorful era is the old Catskill Mountain House about 30 miles north of this city and now in a disheartening state of desertion and disintegration.

We saw this great, sprawling frame structure only a few days ago and it is still a sight to behold with its white, colonnaded porch and shuttered windows facing the piebald panorama of the Hudson valley 2,500 feet below, but gone is the interesting life which pulsed through its corridors and chambers not so long ago.

The huge, neglected hulk of this ancient hostelry has held out well against time and the weather during the few years in which it has been unused, but unless it soon again wins a place in the pattern of our times, it will be but a skeleton of a landmark which has been known throughout the world.

We remember the mountain house in the days when trains of the Stoney Clove branch of the Ulster & Delaware labored over the slow climb to the Kaaterskill plateau with hundreds of summer guests, and we remember too, its bigger sister of the mountain, the Kaaterskill Hotel which was levelled by fire more than two decades ago.

These and other hostelries of the region were then thriving in the latter days of what certainly must have been the golden age of the Catskills, and we know well enough now that they never will return.

The registers of both hotels in those days carried the names of the great and near-great in the nation and stories about both are legend in the area. We know this mainly through an experience one season of selling tickets and checking baggage in the railroad station there, and among the pieces of baggage handled were several marked, "Ziegfeld Follies."

Chief among the legends, and it is probably based on fact, because we have heard it recounted often, is that dealing with the building of the Kaaterskill Hotel. This incredibly large structure, we were told, was built by a Mr. Harding, who had become incensed over the lack of fulfillment of a whim at the old mountain house and he decided one summer to outdo the whole idea by erecting a structure that would dwarf it in every way. He probably succeeded with the exception of capturing the quality which the older hostelry seemed to bring with it from the earlier days of the golden age.

BRIDE SOUGHT

Mary Witman (above), 17-year-old York, Pa., high school senior, was being sought after Thomas Kalinowski, 25, New Britain, Conn., salesman, said he was married to her six weeks ago but that she disappeared several days ago. Truman Goes West;

David L. Lawrence, national Democratic committeeman, and other officials. The President did not address the crowd.

The White House tagged the journey as "non-political" but no one questioned its possible effect on the political future of the gray-haired Missourian.

His first major, prepared address tonight at Chicago, at 9 o'clock (E.S.T.) shared interest with his prospective meeting there with Jacob M. Arvey, chairman of the powerful Cook county Democratic central committee, and his earlier platform appearances at Fort Wayne and Gary, Ind.

Arvey, who has advocated Mr. Truman's withdrawal from the race, will join the Chief Executive at dinner in the Palmer House. So will former Mayor Edward J. Kelly. The host is Mayor Martin Kennelly.

The off-the-cuff platform talks, at Fort Wayne, at 1:20 p. m. (E.S.T.) and at Gary at 3:45 p. m. (E.S.T.) will give the first indication of the President's hold on the voters on his pre-convention tour which will carry him to Los Angeles June 14.

There will be many other such extemporaneous talks from his train before he returns to Washington.

Although there was no representative of the Democratic national committee aboard Mr. Truman's train, Senator J. Howard McGrath, the Democratic chairman, saw him at the White House last night and drove with him to Washington's Union Station to see him off.

So did Secretary of State Marshall, Secretary of Defense Forrestal, Attorney General Clark, Secretary of Agriculture Brannan and Senator Lucas of Illinois, Democratic whip of the Senate.

Senator Lucas is accompanying the President to Chicago for his speech in Chicago Stadium commemorating the 100th anniversary of Swedish immigration into the midwest. It will deal at least in part with the plight of displaced persons in Europe.

Mr. Truman plans other major, prepared talks, as follows: At Omaha, Saturday, before the 35th Division's annual reunion.

At Seattle, June 10 under auspices of the Washington State Press Club.

At Berkeley, Calif., June 12 at commencement exercises of the University of California.

At Los Angeles, June 14, under auspices of Greater Los Angeles Press Club.

Mrs. Truman and their daughter, Margaret, will join the President in Omaha.

Junior League Has Outline of System For Recreation

Representatives of the Junior League of Kingston, Inc., met with members of the Charter Revision Commission at the mayor's office Thursday night to discuss the proposal to create a Board of Public Recreation for this city.

Members of the Junior League recreation committee who were present were Miss Ruth Fessenden, Mrs. Joan Quinn and Mrs. Florence Moseley. Charter Revision Commission members present were Chairman John J. Schwenk, Arthur A. Davis, Jr., Carlton Preston and George E. Yerry, Jr.

After the discussion, the commission members adopted an article specifying the duties of the recreation board, which met with the approval of the Junior League representatives, according to Thomas W. Miller, secretary.

The article, to be known as Article 13 of the proposed new city charter, reads in part:

"The Board of Public Recreation shall have the supervision, care, management and control of all parks and playgrounds of the city . . . it shall prescribe the powers and duties of the Superintendent of Public Recreation and of his subordinates, except as otherwise provided by law, superintend the expenditure of all monies appropriated for parks, playgrounds or recreational purposes. . . .

"In addition to the foregoing, the Board of Public Recreation shall have power to establish and maintain such institutions and instrumentalities for the instruction, enlightenment, improvement, entertainment, recreation and welfare of the inhabitants of the City of Kingston as it may deem appropriate for the public interest or advantage."

The commission also adopted two articles pertaining to the Department of Police and the Department of Law. The next meeting of the commission was set for June 10.

Flood in Turkey

Istanbul, Turkey, June 4 (AP)—Fifty persons were reported drowned today by a flash flood which swept across Amasya, a city in north central Turkey. The flood followed a torrential night rain in a narrow valley. The report said scores of homes were washed away.

Dewey . . .

probably would be fatal for Dewey to top the initial count and fail to pick up more delegates on the second. They argue that many delegates would think he had passed his peak and would look around for another choice.

The same politicians say Taft's and Stassen's problem is to get out front early and to keep piling up delegates.

If Taft runs second or third on the first test, he is certain to face pressure from many sides to get out in favor of Dewey.

But the Taft people think they have an ace in the hole in the 56-vote Illinois delegation which is expected to cast its first ballot for Gov. Dwight Green as a favorite son.

The Taft camp thinks it will get 50 of those votes on the second ballot. It is counting on others from Massachusetts, New Jersey and Nebraska to swell that total.

If that first ballot result is close the bidding will be feverish for support from Pennsylvania's 73-vote delegation, California's 53, Michigan's 41, New Jersey's 35, Massachusetts' 35 and Connecticut's 19.
